7 Felony Cases, One Misdemeanor Reported By Panel

The Hancock County Grand Jury concluded a one-day session Tuesday in New Cumberland in returning seven felony indictments and one misdemeanor count against eight defendants.

Two defendants entered pleas when arraigned before Judge Ralph E. Pryor, while formal arraignment was continued to Friday for five others, and a capias order was issued for a Weirton man who failed to appear.

Judge Pryor set trial Monday at 9:30 a. m. for Eugene Mathes of Chester, who pleaded innocent to a felony indictment accusing him of towing away a disabled car worth $100 owned by a Maryland man.

The vehicle, a 1952 Ford convertible, is owned by Donald L. Smith and Mathes is accused of towing it away March 31.

Trial was set April 27 for Clarence Baker of Chester, accused of larceny by embezzlement of $2,406.34 from the Delano Granite Works, Inc., of Columbus Nov. 12.

Baker pleaded innocent and Judge Pryor continued his bond.

Judge Pryor ordered sheriff's deputies to apprehend James Andrew Young, 27, of Weirton, named in a misdemeanor charge of breaking and entering Ohio's Market in Weirton Jan. 29. Young's bond was also ordered forfeited.

Formal arraignment was continued until Friday morning at 9:30 for five others indicted when the panel reported early yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court chambers. They are:

William Charles Olenick of Weirton, embezzlement of $3,170.18 from the Weir-Cove Dairy, Inc., Jan. 13.

Wilbert Robinson, 27, of Weirton, felonious stabbing of Joseph Jordan, 20, of Weirton, March 4 while on Route 66 south of Newell.

Michael Anthony Pochiro of Youngstown, attempted armed robbery of James Bounaris of Weirton Feb. 14.

William C. Ware, 28, and Kenneth L. Bailey, 25, both of New Cumberland, grand larceny in theft of die plates and shims valued at $750 from the Hancock Manufacturing Co. March 13.

Judge Pryor admonished Bailey for appearing in court without an attorney although he is employed at Weirton Steel Co.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said Edward Keener of East Liverpool and Henry Taylor Jr. of Weirton, indicted by the January Grand Jury, will be sentenced Friday morning.

Taylor pleaded guilty to felonious assault, and Keener to assault and battery.

Judge Pryor extended appreciation to the panel for its services and said the 16-members will not be recalled unless a major felony should occur during the April term of Circuit Court.

The panel of five women and 11 men was headed by Nelson Ross of Weirton, foreman.

Riot Punctuates Teachers' Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—A teacher strike for more pay disrupted school operations throughout the city today and led to a pupil riot at a school on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

The disorder erupted at the Seward Park High School shortly after the bell rang for morning classes. Rowdiness broke out among 2,300 pupils who had first gathered in the auditorium.

They began throwing papers out the windows then were ordered from the school when 15 nonstriking teachers and four policemen were unable to control them.

As the pupils reached the street, about half a dozen boys began swinging wildly at each other as hundreds of others milled about. Police waded in to halt the battle. Reinforcements were summoned.

Police expressed belief that the presence of a television truck and camera crew recording the scene may have prompted the students to put on something of a show.

Most of the school's teachers were marching in a picket line around the building.

There were conflicting reports on the immediate effectiveness of the strike from a citywide standpoint. Authorities sought to keep classes going with teachers who did not join in the walkout.

Representatives of the teachers union that struck claimed that schools other than Seward Park had been forced to close. The Board of Education denied it.

A union spokesman said he expected most of the city's schools would be closed sooner or later. He said more than 4,000 teachers were picketing. This would be about one-tenth the total employed.

The striking teachers defied both nonstrike laws and threats of dismissal to stage their walkout, called in protest of what they termed a starvation budget.

At a meeting attended by 5,000 of the 40,000 teachers Tuesday night, members of the United Federation of Teachers shouted down President Charles Cogen's postponement plea and elected by a margin of 313 votes to strike the 900 schools.

The union leadership immediately closed ranks. It was predicted that up to 10,000 teachers would be on the picket lines today and that at least 30,000 would fail to show up for work.

The federation, which has 15,000 members, is the bargaining agent for all 40,000 public school teachers.

The city ordered 1,200 policemen and an undisclosed number of plainclothes detectives to special strike duty.

Schools Superintendent John J. Theobald advised parents that all schools — except those for the physically handicapped — would open as usual, although students might have to return home for lack of instructors. Parochial and other private schools are not affected.

Theobald warned all teachers to be on the job or face instant dismissal under provisions of the state's Condon-Wadlin Act, which forbids strikes by public employes.

4 Protestant Churches Give Merger Plan Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad scale attempt to unite a large part of American protestantism today was off to a vigorous start.

How far it will get, and at what pace it will move, hinged on many unknown factors.

But leaders of four major denominations, the United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist and United Church of Christ, not only gave the effort a firm, initial push, but set up machinery to keep it going and expanded it by asking three other church bodies to take part.

The four-way merger project became a likely seven-way affair, involving communions with about 23 million members.

Tuesday, at the end of a two-day conference held to make a preliminary appraisal of the prospects, denominational representatives said they found grounds for genuine confidence that such a united church could become a reality.

"Decisions made and attitudes revealed here carried us much further than we had dared hope," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church.

Similar reactions came from leaders of the three other denominations.

The conference, which originally planned to defer any operational decisions until the next meeting, acted instead to set up immediately a continuing consultation on church union.

The Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, was named chairman, and Methodist Charles C. Parlin, a New York lawyer, was named secretary.

Although the next full meeting won't come until a year from now, subcommittees were to work during the interim to try to resolve various issues.

The three other denominations being invited to join in the effort are the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), the Evangelical United Brethren and the Polish National Catholic Church of America.

Steubenville Court Grants Injunctions Against Kitty Kat

STEUBENVILLE — Temporary injunctions prohibiting gambling and prostitution at the Kitty Kat Klub, Inc., were handed down Tuesday in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court.

Judge Arthur Hooper granted the restraining orders on application of Prosecutor Joseph Loha, who filed the action in a petition to abate a nuisance.

The petition charged that the old roadhouse on Route 7 north of the city was used for gambling and as a place of prostitution and assignation.

It was raided by agents of the Canton office of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control Feb. 18 and seven were arrested.

Continued until a later date to permit a prior hearing by the Ohio Department of Liquor Control is a third charge of illegal liquor sales.

The date for the hearing was left indefinite to permit the court to consider the case after a state ruling on the charge. After the state ruling, the case will be reassigned to Common Pleas Court for a full hearing.

President's Action Slated In Ship Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to issue orders today that could result in a court-directed stop of the West Coast shipping strike by nightfall.

Justice Department attorneys were reported already in San Francisco ready to go into court with an 80-day injunction plea as soon as they get the signal from Washington.

The strike, now in its fourth week, has crippled West Coast shipping and curtailed delivery of vital supplies to the island State of Hawaii. Gov. William F. Quinn has declared a food emergency in the islands and appealed to the White House to intervene.

Officials practically ruled out the chances of an 11th-hour settlement.

The employer organization involved in the West Coast dispute, the Pacific Maritime Association, had offered the three unions involved raises in pay and benefits valued at 11.5 per cent. This was said to represent what the East Coast unions eventually settled for last summer.

The unions—the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the Marine Firemen, and the Marine Cooks and Stewards—have insisted on a 17 per cent raise. About 5,000 members of the three unions have been involved in the walkout.

Both the West Coast shipowners and the unions have opposed using a court injunction to end the strike. The shipowners were said to fear the strike would only be resumed at the end of the 80-day legal limit such an injunction is permitted to remain in effect.

'62 Appropriation Passes In Council At Hurried Session

In a hurriedly - called special session Tuesday midnight, Council gave unanimous approval to the $1,372,045 annual appropriation ordinance, clearing the way for the city relief department to disburse $2,617 in aid payments which it held up yesterday for lack of funds.

Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, who had opposed the measure previously, cast affirmative votes last night, allowing the ordinance to be approved quickly and without debate.

Mayor Signs Quickly

To assure that the relief department could distribute the April checks to its clients today, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet made a special trip to City Hall after midnight to sign the emergency ordinance into law.

As at the two previous readings, the ordinance was supported by five other Council members—Kenneth C. Berg, S. James Welch, Edward Massey, George E. Willshaw and Robert W. Sample Jr. All the consistent proponents, except Massey, are Republicans. Duffy and Murray are Democrats.

The meeting did not get under way until after 11:30 last night, as Berg and Murray are working 3-11 p.m. shifts.

Council President Charles N. Edwards telephoned the notice of the special meeting to the councilmen early last night. Apparently the protests raised by the relief clients who did not receive their checks on schedule yesterday were a big factor in the decision to enact the ordinance last night, rather than waiting for the regular session next Monday night.

Stiff Lecture Given Man On Tax Charges

The first man to be brought before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failure to pay the 1961 city income tax was given a stern lecture today on the rights of local government and shirking a citizen's duties, but escaped with a suspended $50 fine at the suggestion of Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who said the city did not want to be "vindictive."

Joseph Lucas, 515 Elm St., was one of three served with a summons Friday to appear on charges filed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson. All three are accused of failure to file estimates of 1961 income before the deadline in April.

The two other defendants are due to appear later. Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor reported that Clarence E. Collins, 631 Dresden Ave., is a patient in City Hospital. The judge granted a continuance until Friday in the case of Donald Crumbley, 1001 Monaca St. Crumbley has advised authorities he will pay the overdue tax Friday, so his hearing was continued until then.

Lucas told the court he paid his 1961 tax Monday. He was ordered to pay the $7.50 costs in the case. He pleaded guilty.

U.S. And British Hopes Fade For Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain appeared today to be completely stalled against an unyielding wall of Soviet opposition in their last-ditch effort to get Moscow's agreement to an enforceable treaty banning nuclear tests.

While formally expressing hope that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will yet reverse his policy against an international inspection system to police a test ban, officials here actually see no prospect that this will happen.

President Kennedy is therefore going ahead with plans to start atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in about two weeks. The tests will be held over the Central Pacific during a period of about two months, and officials indicate that there will be between 30 and 40 nuclear explosions involved.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London Tuesday that he will go on pressing for East-West agreement on a test ban "to the last possible moment."

It became apparent Tuesday that while Kennedy has shown reluctance to go into the test series, Macmillan is under much greater home-front political pressure to continue demonstrating the desire to put an end to all tests.

By agreement between Kennedy and Macmillan, the United States and Britain issued a joint statement which amounted to a warning to the Russians and to the world that without a change in the Soviet position, "the test series scheduled for the latter part of this month will go forward."

Macmillan also sent a new personal message to Khrushchev making a direct appeal for a modification of Soviet policy with the argument that the purpose of inspection "is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it."

May Launch Drive For Compulsory Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy probably will try to salvage his program of voluntary cooperation to keep the economy stable when he speaks out today on the decision of the U.S. Steel Corp. to raise prices.

He is expected to lace into the decision and may start plugging for compulsory economic controls.

U.S. Steel's increase strikes a severe — perhaps lethal—blow at Kennedy's carefully laid plans to woo employers and labor unions toward decisions that would keep the wage-price line.

DiSalle Terms District Land As Ideal For Park

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle terms "an ideal location" the 22,000 - acre district site being discussed by Ohio and Pennsylvania officials as a likely park area.

DiSalle said at Columbus the area, which would include Beaver Creek State Park in Columbiana County, is extremely well situated since it lies half-way between Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

It would be in the midst of one of the nation's most heavily populated areas, the governor pointed out.

He commented Tuesday night on a study in progress in which Herbert Eagon, Ohio natural resources director, is co-operating with officials of Pennsylvania's Department of Water and Forestry, the U.S. Park Service and the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy.

The proposed park would be about half in this vicinity of Ohio and half in Western Pennsylvania.

The Beaver Creek State Park portion is a 1,232-acre spread of undeveloped terrain intersected by the Little Beaver River. Most of the rest of the area also is rugged, primitive land.

A spokesman for the U. S. Park Service revealed several weeks ago that the district tract was being considered, with joint participation by the two states.

The governor noted also that consolidation of the six state parks in the Hocking State Forest area is a step closer to reality.

He said the Natural Resources Department's real estate section has completed appraisal of 279 properties totaling 19,589 acres which would be needed for the purpose.

The Southeastern Ohio parks involved are Old Man's Cave, Conkle's Hollow, Ash Cave, Cedar Falls, Cantwell Cliffs and Rockville.

Firm's Head Says Boost Necessary

Kennedy Expected To Issue 'Strong Statement' Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The giant U.S. Steel Corp., a leader in one of the nation's basic industries, increased its prices today.

The price hike, announced Tuesday added an average of $6 to the cost of a ton of steel, which has been selling for a little more than $150.

What effect it will have on the prices of other steel firms was not immediately determined. U.S. Steel, biggest producer in the nation, customarily sets the price pattern for the industry.

Steel prices have an effect on prices in the auto, construction and appliance industries, all big steel users.

The increase came less than a week after U.S. Steel and 10 other big firms signed new two-year labor contracts with the United Steelworkers to take effect July 1.

Those pacts, granting a 10-cent-an-hour package increase to each basic steelworker, were hailed by President Kennedy as responsible and noninflationary, adhering to the President's plea for an early, noninflationary steel settlement.

President Leslie B. Worthington of U.S. Steel said the price hike was necessary because of a continuing cost-price squeeze on profits since 1958. He said these costs have continued to rise without even considering higher labor costs after July 1 under the new contracts.

Worthington described the price increase as modest, amounting to about three-tenths of a cent a pound of steel. He said it was a "catch-up" increase needed to offset the continuing squeeze on profits the last four years.

In 1961, U.S. Steel earnings fell to $190.2 million, equal to $3.03 a share, and were the lowest since 1952. In 1960 the company cleared $304.1 million, or $5.16 a share. U.S. Steel reports first quarter 1962 results on April 24.

Worthington said the price hike compares with cost increases of about six per cent since 1958. That was the year of the last general price increase of about $4.50 a ton.

President Kennedy, however, reportedly took a dim view of the hike. One of his aides said the chief executive would issue "a very strong statement against the price boost."

David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers' president, said he was "surprised, troubled and concerned" about the price hike.

Referring to the just-concluded steel-labor negotiations, McDonald said "we had no understanding and no discussion with the company on prices."

President Thomas F. Patton of Republic Steel quickly responded by saying, "Republic certainly needs a price increase, and will

7 Felony Cases, One Misdemeanor Reported By Panel

The Hancock County Grand Jury concluded a one-day session Tuesday in New Cumberland in returning seven felony indictments and one misdemeanor count against eight defendants.

Two defendants entered pleas when arraigned before Judge Ralph E. Pryor, while formal arraignment was continued to Friday for five others, and a capias order was issued for a Weirton man who failed to appear.

Judge Pryor set trial Monday at 9:30 a. m. for Eugene Mathes of Chester, who pleaded innocent to a felony indictment accusing him of towing away a disabled car worth $100 owned by a Maryland man.

Trial was set April 27 for Clarence Baker of Chester, accused of larceny by embezzlement of $2,406.34 from the Delano Granite Works, Inc., of Columbus Nov. 12.

Baker pleaded innocent and Judge Pryor continued his bond.

Judge Pryor ordered sheriff's deputies to apprehend James Andrew Young, 27, of Weirton, named in a misdemeanor charge of breaking and entering Ohio's Market in Weirton Jan. 29. Young's bond was also ordered forfeited.

Formal arraignment was continued until Friday morning at 9:30 for five others indicted when the panel reported early yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court chambers. They are:

William Charles Olenick of Weirton, embezzlement of $3,170.18 from the Weir-Cove Dairy, Inc., Jan. 13.

Wilbert Robinson, 27, of Weirton, felonious stabbing of Joseph Jordan, 20, of Weirton, March 4 while on Route 66 south of Newell.

William C. Ware, 28, and Kenneth L. Bailey, 25, both of New Cumberland, grand larceny in theft of die plates and shims valued at $750 from the Hancock Manufacturing Co. March 13.

Judge Pryor admonished Bailey for appearing in court without an attorney although he is employed at Weirton Steel Co.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said Edward Keener of East Liverpool and Henry Taylor Jr. of Weirton, indicted by the January Grand Jury, will be sentenced Friday morning.

Taylor pleaded guilty to felonious assault, and Keener to assault and battery.

Judge Pryor extended appreciation to the panel for its services and said the 16-members will not be recalled unless a major felony should occur during the April term of Circuit Court.

The panel of five women and 11 men was headed by Nelson Ross of Weirton, foreman.

While formally expressing hope that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will yet reverse his policy against an international inspection system to police a test ban, officials here actually see no prospect that this will happen.

President Kennedy is therefore going ahead with plans to start atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in about two weeks. The tests will be held over the Central Pacific during a period of about two months, and officials indicate that there will be between 30 and 40 nuclear explosions involved.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London Tuesday that he will go on pressing for East-West agreement on a test ban "to the last possible moment."

It became apparent Tuesday that while Kennedy has shown reluctance to go into the test series, Macmillan is under much greater home-front political pressure to continue demonstrating the desire to put an end to all tests.

By agreement between Kennedy and Macmillan, the United States and Britain issued a joint statement which amounted to a warning to the Russians and to the world that without a change in the Soviet position, "the test series scheduled for the latter part of this month will go forward."

Macmillan also sent a new personal message to Khrushchev making a direct appeal for a modification of Soviet policy with the argument that the purpose of inspection "is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it."

Motorist Residing In Hammondsville Area Wrecks Car

A Hammondsville man was injured Tuesday night when his car overturned while being pursued by Irondale Constable Oliver Nicholson.

Leopha Randolph, 27, of Hammondsville R. D. 1, was treated at City Hospital for lacerations of the right forehead and scalp and abrasions of the right hand and nose after the crash on the Irondale-Salineville Rd.

Constable Nicholson said Randolph entered Irondale at 9:20, turned around, and drove away at excessive speed.

Kennedy Due To Rap Steel Price Boost

May Launch Drive For Compulsory Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy probably will try to salvage his program of voluntary cooperation to keep the economy stable when he speaks out today on the decision of the U.S. Steel Corp. to raise prices.

He is expected to lace into the decision and may start plugging for compulsory economic controls.

U.S. Steel's increase strikes a severe — perhaps lethal—blow at Kennedy's carefully laid plans to woo employers and labor unions toward decisions that would keep the wage-price line.

The administration succeeded in persuading the Steelworkers Union

In Beaver Creek Area

DiSalle Terms District Land As Ideal For Park

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle terms "an ideal location" the 22,000 - acre district site being discussed by Ohio and Pennsylvania officials as a likely park area.

DiSalle said at Columbus the area, which would include Beaver Creek State Park in Columbiana County, is extremely well situated since it lies half-way between Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

It would be in the midst of one of the nation's most heavily populated areas, the governor pointed out.

He commented Tuesday night on a study in progress in which Herbert Eagon, Ohio natural resources director, is co-operating with officials of Pennsylvania's Department of Water and Forestry, the U.S. Park Service and the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy.

The proposed park would be about half in this vicinity of Ohio and half in Western Pennsylvania.

The Beaver Creek State Park portion is a 1,232-acre spread of undeveloped terrain intersected by the Little Beaver River. Most of the rest of the area also is rugged, primitive land.

A spokesman for the U. S. Park Service revealed several weeks ago that the district tract was being considered, with joint participation by the two states.

The governor noted also that consolidation of the six state parks in the Hocking State Forest area is a step closer to reality.

He said the Natural Resources Department's real estate section has completed appraisal of 279 properties totaling 19,589 acres which would be needed for the purpose.

The Southeastern Ohio parks involved are Old Man's Cave, Conkle's Hollow, Ash Cave, Cedar Falls, Cantwell Cliffs and Rockville.

Firm's Head Says Boost Necessary

Kennedy Expected To Issue 'Strong Statement' Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The giant U.S. Steel Corp., a leader in one of the nation's basic industries, increased its prices today.

The price hike, announced Tuesday added an average of $6 to the cost of a ton of steel, which has been selling for a little more than $150.

What effect it will have on the prices of other steel firms was not immediately determined. U.S. Steel, biggest producer in the nation, customarily sets the price pattern for the industry.

Steel prices have an effect on prices in the auto, construction and appliance industries, all big steel users.

The increase came less than a week after U.S. Steel and 10 other big firms signed new two-year labor contracts with the United Steelworkers to take effect July 1.

Those pacts, granting a 10-cent-an-hour package increase to each basic steelworker, were hailed by President Kennedy as responsible and noninflationary, adhering to the President's plea for an early, noninflationary steel settlement.

President Leslie B. Worthington of U.S. Steel said the price hike was necessary because of a continuing cost-price squeeze on profits since 1958. He said these costs have continued to rise without even considering higher labor costs after July 1 under the new contracts.

Worthington described the price increase as modest, amounting to about three-tenths of a cent a pound of steel. He said it was a "catch-up" increase needed to offset the continuing squeeze on profits the last four years.

In 1961, U.S. Steel earnings fell to $190.2 million, equal to $3.03 a share, and were the lowest since 1952. In 1960 the company cleared $304.1 million, or $5.16 a share. U.S. Steel reports first quarter 1962 results on April 24.

Worthington said the price hike compares with cost increases of about six per cent since 1958. That was the year of the last general price increase of about $4.50 a ton.

President Kennedy, however, reportedly took a dim view of the hike. One of his aides said the chief executive would issue "a very strong statement against the price boost."

David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers' president, said he was "surprised, troubled and concerned" about the price hike.

Referring to the just-concluded steel-labor negotiations, McDonald said "we had no understanding and no discussion with the company on prices."

$302,593 Bid Filed For Route 518 Bridge

Soda & Luscher Construction Co. of Niles submitted the apparent low bid of $302,593 to the State Highway Department at Columbus Tuesday for construction of a bridge for State Route 518 over the west fork of Little Beaver Creek in Wayne Township.

The state said the Niles company's bid was $12,607 under its estimate of $315,200. The Wayne Township project was one of 12 bridge jobs on which the Highway Department opened sealed offers yesterday.

Relief Crisis Spurs Action

ray called last night's special session, with Sample joining in to make the third.

Duffy alone opposed the appropriation on first reading at a special meeting March 28. Murray did not attend the session. At the regular meeting April 2, Murray joined Duffy in opposition.

That meant the ordinance still required another reading, as at least six affirmative votes are needed to enact an emergency ordinance at one session.

In opposing the ordinance, Duffy and Murray called for certain economies, particularly elimination of nine or more jobs from the city payroll.

Committee Selected

At the April 2 meeting, acting on unanimous Council authorization, Edwards named a five-man committee to study economies. Headed by Duffy, the committee will have its first meeting Friday night at 7.

Murray was the only member to comment before the final vote was taken on the ordinance last night.

"I would like to make it clear that if I had known this ordinance would have held up the relief orders, I probably would have voted for it at the last meeting," Murray said.

"I am voting for it now because 58 families — 235 individuals — did not receive money yesterday for their necessities."

However, Murray said he was "informed by a city official who should know" prior to the April 2 meeting "that there was no crisis in the city and wouldn't be until April 20" if the ordinance was not passed at that time.

Explains Voting Reason

"I feel we will make progress through the economy committee," Murray added. "So I will vote for the ordinance tonight."

Queried after adjournment, Duffy said the fact that an economy committee has been appointed to study his suggestions helped remove his objections to the appropriation ordinance. The fact that the relief checks were delayed yesterday also played a part in his supporting the legislation, he added.

Virtually all of the session was occupied in the reading of the 12-page ordinance, which provides $68,000 for poor relief needs this year.

A few minutes after midnight the final vote was taken and Council adjourned.

Edwards thanked the finance committee for its "splendid job" in drafting the appropriation.

"I know that many hours of work went into this task," he added.

Began Developing April 4

The series of events that came to a head last night began building up April 4 when Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate declared that the relief checks due yesterday could not be issued unless Council passed the appropriation ordinance in the meantime.

As the temporary appropriation ordinance expired March 31, the city was without authority to disburse funds until the new legislation was passed, he pointed out.

In the next three days, Applegate and Willshaw and Sample issued a series of statements on the fund "crisis" but no special meeting was called. Council met informally Friday night and Monday night, but no mention was made of the appropriation.

No Checks For Relief

The climax came yesterday morning when 58 relief clients showed up on schedule for their monthly checks and were told no payments could be made because the appropriation ordinance had not been passed.

The relief department had drawn up the checks as usual and passed them on to Safety-Service Director Robert Owen. The director signed a voucher for the expenditure and turned it over to Applegate.

Applegate said neither he nor Treasurer Bert A. Dawson could sign the checks because no money was available. Asked for an opinion, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper agreed, citing a state law that no expenditures can be made without an appropriation.

The next move came about 6 p. m. yesterday, when the machinery was put in motion to call the special session.

The relief checks were signed and issued this morning to Mrs. Margaret Hickey, relief director.

Mrs. Hickey said the clients were told yesterday to report at 1 p. m. today for their checks, but many appeared at her office early this morning.

Tax

any comment, Cooper said:

"He has the undistinguished honor of being the first to be prosecuted for a tax violation, but it is not the city's intent to be vindictive.

"However, the city wishes to be fair with other citizens who have obeyed the law and paid the tax," Cooper said. "We don't seek a large penalty. However, there will be other cases and the city won't necessarily ask leniency in those. I don't believe Mr. Lucas should be allowed to go scot free."

Then Cooper recommended a suspended $50 fine, with the defendant being ordered to pay the costs.

In his lecture to Lucas, the judge first reviewed the provisions of the tax law and pointed out the penalty for a violation is a fine of up to $100 or a 60-day jail term, or both.

"This case is of vital interest to the entire population of the city," the judge said. "I think it would be well for the court to make it clear to you and others the obligations they have to the city."

Then the judge pointed out that the city government "has the right and the power" to impose an income tax. Both the U. S. Supreme Court and the Ohio Supreme Court "have declared such laws constitutional and enforcible," he said.

"Failure to comply with the law, whether wilful or not, can only result in chaos and a breakdown in the community," the judge continued. "Whether you are in favor of the law or not, so long as it remains on the books it must be enforced."

Then the judge commented that society refused to accept the national prohibition law and it "created the greatest criminal syndicate in history."

"Can you imagine what would happen if those who don't like a law refused to obey it?" he asked. "Can you imagine the chaos on the streets if all the drivers decided not to obey the traffic laws?"

"Some people pay grudgingly, but they pay," the judge said, referring again to the tax law. "If the court did not penalize you, it would be penalizing all those who paid the tax. Cases of this kind are distasteful to the court, but nothing will dissuade me from my duty.

"The fact that you paid the tax Monday and the fact Mr. Cooper has said he doesn't want to make an extreme example in your case is in your favor. I will go along with Mr. Cooper's thinking, but later if it is necessary to take drastic action, the court will do so."

When filing the charges Friday, Cooper said they were the first in a series planned against persons who ignored the 1961 tax law. The ordinance was repealed at the 1961 general election. Another income tax law was passed by Council March 2.

They said the administration and Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald felt this was implicit.

It's Illegal In Ohio Under The Law

The other day at Columbus, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy issued a statement on bingo in answer to a question from a newspaperman. It follows in part:

"There have been legislative attempts in the past to legalize charitable bingo, but they never have been successful.

"The game of bingo, when played for a consideration and a prize, is a lottery and as such is prohibited in this state."

The attorney general's language is clear—as things now stand bingo is illegal in the state of Ohio.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper also has issued formal opinions that the game is illegal under Ohio law on the same basis—that it constitutes a lottery.

City Council's course should be clear, therefore, on the formal request by four groups that charity bingo be permitted to return to East Liverpool under a strict system of municipal licensing and control.

In view of the state and local rulings, there seems no proper choice but to turn down the request, regardless of whatever safeguards might be proposed.

The fact that bingo reportedly is being played in other parts of Ohio may be just cause for some resentment here, but it does not alter the local situation from a legal standpoint. Two wrongs do not make a right. If others wish to ignore the law, that's their choice. But, in our opinion, it would be clearly ill-advised for East Liverpool to follow suit.

The return of bingo also would leave the door ajar for other questionable games to creep back into the picture.

If bingo ever is legalized by the state, then a re-appraisal would be in order. But so long as it is illegal under Ohio law, the door should remain tightly closed.

Library Week

National Library Week once more brings to mind the "treasures" that lie within the shelves of East Liverpool's Carnegie Public Library and other libraries in the district.

Never has there been a greater need for knowledge.

But Is It A 'Debate'?

Nothing in the dictionary definition of "debate" bars the word to describe properly what happens when political candidates appear together on the same platform.

But the fact remains that the Kennedy-Nixon "debates" in 1960 and the DiSalle-McElroy "debate" in Ohio this year are not what most of us mean when we talk about having a "debate."

We're not even sure those famous "debates" between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas in 1858 would have filled the bill. What really happened then was that obscure Mr. Lincoln, needing a buildup, got it by appearing on the same platform with a famous man who got more than he bargained for — a showman who made the oratorically talented Mr. Douglas look, sound and act like a stuffed shirt.

Gov. DiSalle and the Ohio attorney general didn't really debate anything. They traded accusations, each trying to make a more lasting impression on an unseen audience. Nor did Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy debate anything in 1960. Mr. Nixon found himself defending the Eisenhower administration against the onslaughts of a determined critic who desperately needed a chance to play such a role and never would have had it if he hadn't been permitted to "debate" the vice president of the United States, who intended to make his campaign on an entirely different pitch.

There was less enthusiasm about political "debates" after that. There was even a moral, which goes something like this:

Beware of a political candidate who talks about "debates," because what he has in mind is an audience for what he hopes will be a triumph of his charming personality over his adversary.

Even Tiny Albania Talks Back

Premier Khrushchev is facing that "ole-debbil" dilemma of bullets or butter.

As his Russian citizens become more highly skilled they are demanding more fruits of their labors. Khrushchev in his drive to push world communism has spread himself too far and too thin.

As a result he can't satisfy the wants of his people at home and at the same time spread the Marxist-Lenin theory.

He has remarked that Marx is easier to swallow with a little butter. But by competing in the arms race and trying to sell this philosophy of government in all parts of the world he has been unable to provide enough butter.

Many experts see this as one reason for the comparative silence from Moscow. Khrushchev is preoccupied with problems on the home front.

The experts agree that the Russian people will continue to support communism but they also point out there is a fierce pride of nationalism in Russia. And the Soviet people are becoming more interested in obtaining the good things in life at home than they are in trying to peddle communism in Africa or other parts of Asia.

Russia's problem of a lack of consumer goods is mild compared to other Red capitals. Peiping's food problem has reached the critical stage and Havana is not only hungry but is facing gigantic economic problems.

It would appear that time is working to the advantage of the West. The problems and pitfalls of communism are being widely publicized and the new nations emerging are coming to realize that the system isn't to their liking.

Speed Limits For Cautious Drivers

The Ohio Turnpike is said to be considering an increase in its speed limit from 65 to 70 miles an hour. A curious line of reasoning is hinted at.

The Indiana Turnpike, it is pointed out, raised its limit from 65 to 70 because it was losing business to a freeway that had a 70-mile limit. If the Ohio Department of Highways raises its freeway limit from 65 to 70, the Ohio Turnpike will do likewise.

This suggests some form of competition for vehicle operators who want to drive fast i sgoing on between free roads and toll roads. If anything of that kind is involved, highway safety experts will do well to retire to a safe place and take up a more rewarding line of work.

The truth is, ordinary drivers on both freeways and toll roads have been confused for years about the literal application of posted speed limits. The ordinary driver takes highway signs seriously. He stays inside the posted speed limits. He slows down when so instructed. He heeds the no-passing signs and never, never pulls up on the berm, except in trouble.

For his pains he is passed by everything from foreign skitterbugs to 20-ton tractor rigs. Finally he gets the idea he has been going too slow for safety, in view of the special hazard of rear-end collisions on high-speed roads. But when he steps up his speed to 70 he is still passed up as though he was dragging an anchor.

The only hint he ever had on this matter is something about its being "prima facie" unlawful to exceed posted limits and "prima facie" lawful to stay within them, meaning the subject isn't likely to come up either way unless complications occur; in other words, speed is relative to safety and is not likely to be considered solely on its own merit unless it becomes so excessive that even the patrolmen take notice of it.

The moral: Speed limits are for cautious drivers.

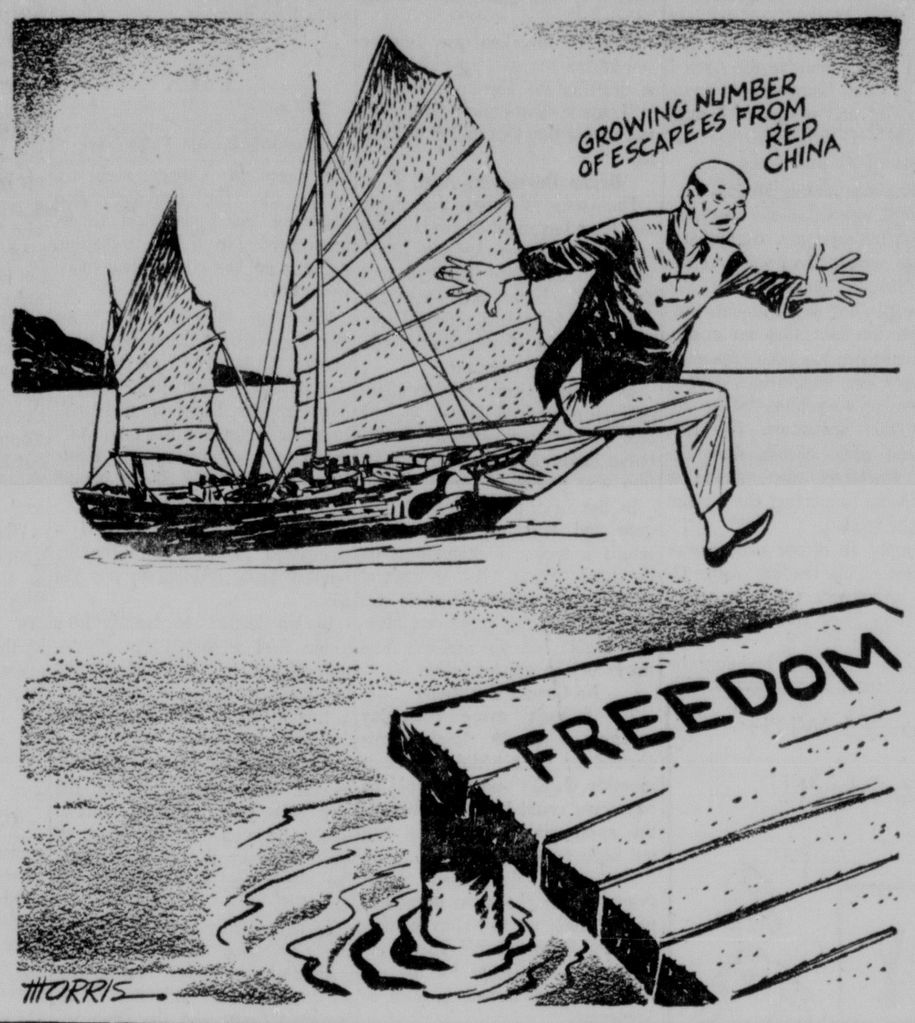
The Great Leap Forward



Fleeting Martyrdom For Bernis

By S. L. A. Marshall

Bernis Owen of Seadrift, Tex., has gained for himself a modest niche in the history of our time as the sacrificial lamb of the 1961-62 midget mobilization.

While he bleeds on the altar all by himself, let no beholder say that he didn't earn what he got. It is always a mistake for a chicken to try to perform like a rugged individualist, especially when he has a bad sense of timing. Otherwise, the story of Owen is as empty of significance as the tale of the Pecos horse thief who said on the gallows: "This is going to be a terrible lesson to me only."

By grace of a court-martial, Bernis, age 23, will be doing six months in the booby hatch for describing an order published by his commander as a "hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."

Such high faluting language as this, coming from a son of Texas, is in itself an affront to tradition and in earlier years would have merited some such rougher punishment as 10 days in the electric chair.

But it wasn't for this the cruel court convicted little Bernis. Though a private first class, he had neither sounded off privately, nor behaved first class. Before Bernis could get his contemptuous words out of his mouth, he was already on the telephone line to the editor of a press service, with the aim of proclaiming liberty for himself through all the land.

That's why a court of hard boiled National Guard officers nailed Bernis, the forlorn but loud mouthed reservist. Should we not, in justice and courtesy, belatedly doff our skimmers to these sturdy militia men, who are too often lampooned as weekend toy soldiers?

They know what it takes to keep sound the fighting fiber of a nation, or at least their rough handling of little Bernis suggests that they have firm personal convictions about such. That isn't meant to imply that their verdict, if tested by a Roper poll, would win a ringing endorsement from the great majority of our sterling citizenry. It is so easy to weep for the poor lamb in uniform who walks astray.

WE HAD on this court some quaint, old-fashioned types. Let's face it. They hold with the notion that proper standards of military discipline are not unrelated to the survival of this Republic.

To arrive at their verdict, they had to believe that soldiers are paid to do their duty, that armies harden out of respect for higher authority and that such freedoms as military forces are permitted to enjoy must be shared equally by officers and men. In these times, how truly extraordinary!

Let those who doubt it take due note that little Bernis wouldn't be headed for the brig but for a certain wobbliness in the Pantagon secretariat, that embodiment of the principle of civilian control, supposedly the final safeguard against militarism rampant.

But little Bernis isn't the only sinner; he's just the guy who gets socked. Concurrent with his hours in the dock, wives of called-up men were photographed running a protest picket line in Massachusetts and in a North Carolina camp other malcontents were reported on a hunger strike because they wanted out before the government said: "On your mark, get set, go!" For these reasons, it is fairly predictable that an officialdom which was all-forgiving toward GI waywardness last autumn will not soften on Private Owen now that spring has come.

Even the national press has deserted his cause, advancing no arguments about why justice should be tempered with mercy. It's the same press which perked tears last November by serializing stories about the hardships of the called-up boys, but didn't dig deep enough into the facts of the mobilization to discover that the material shortages afflicting the Army are grievous, lasting and crippling. Yes, it has been a strange mobilization, with its every main lesson obscured by political smoke and tidal waves of mawkish sentiment.

SO MUCH TIME and tripe have slipped by that the connection between the booboos on the part of civilian control and the punishment ordered for Bernis have been lost to sight. Is that fair play? Here a lonesome private goes to pokey while all the bureaucrats who misled him into believing he could play Mr. Big with impunity get off the hook.

We start with the directive published by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara which clamped a tighter gag on the U.S. military than they have ever known in peacetime.

It made news in the same hour that the called-up forces said goodbye to home and rolled away to camp. The wisdom of that order was to be questioned on several grounds, among them, that it violated our fundamental liberties, affronted American military tradition and drove still deeper into its shell an armed force high command which is already much too timid. But if that directive had any virtue whatever, it had to be applied to all uniformed men alike.

THAT WASN'T DONE. From the beginning, the called-up enlisted men were interviewed by the correspondents. They were directly quoted, their names being used, in ridicule of the mobilization, the national policy, the President and their administrative superior. Nothing was done about it.

One captain at Fort Devens took summary action against a soldier squawker whose published criticisms were too extreme. The culprit drew some such light punishment as 10 days confinement to camp. Thereon civilian control made a great public show of remitting the sentence, which in effect was a reprimand to the captain for having applied it and a signal to ranks that the gag rule operated under a double standard.

Ultimately, someone had to pay for such official folly, or there could be no recovery. That's the role of little Bernis, probably the most important in his lifetime. But six months in pokey is more than one-half year, easy to say, and mighty hard to do.

Power To Tax

By David Lawrence

Congress Faces Criticism On Witholding Plan

If Uncle Sam orders a bank to take away from a depositor money that belongs to him and isn't owed to the government as income tax, can this become an illegal act for which public officials could be required to stand trial? The question arises as a result of the plight of many citizens of small income who are being told that, under a bill which has just passed the House of Representatives and is before the Senate, the government can order a bank or company to withhold a certain percentage of interest or dividends although there may not be an equivalent amount due in taxes.

David Lawrence

The effect of this action is described in a letter received from a woman in Atlanta, Ga., which reads as follows:

"I wish to call your attention to one harmful feature of the proposed withholding of 20 per cent on stock dividends, and which I have not seen mentioned in the news—that is, the effect it has on the man who owes just a small tax. It seems that if a man owes no tax, he may file an exemption certificate. But there is no relief for the man who owes just a small tax. My family is in the latter group.

"Our taxable income is approximately $4,200 a year, all of it derived from dividends on stocks. My husband and I are past 65 years of age and therefore have double exemptions of $1,200 each — a total of $2,400. We also have a retirement exemption, a 4 per cent credit on dividends, as well as other deductible items.

"Our taxes amount to something like $50 a year, or less. Yet the administration proposes to withhold from our modest income the sum of $840.

"What moral or legal right does it have to do such a thing: Except for the taxes we owe, that money is ours. It does not belong to the government, nor to anyone else. If the government withholds from us money we do not owe, that is confiscation. Promise of a refund does not alter this fact."

IT'S POSSIBLE that many citizens will begin depositing their money in foreign banks or investing in securities in Canada and other countries which are not bound by American law to deduct interest or dividend payments.

It's all very well to say refunds will be made by the federal government here, but red tape could consume months of time, especially as it means singling out hundreds of thousands of income tax returns and giving them a special audit before paying the refunds.

Also, doesn't the government really owe the taxpayer interest for the period it deprives him of a chance to earn interest on his own money?

It is possible, too, that the administration may find itself in a legal tangle it has never faced before — an attempt by corporations and other institutions to obtain from the U. S. Treasury full payment of all expenses incurred in withholding interest and dividend payments. For this involves keeping additional records, notifying the government of the exact amount for which each taxpayer is to be credited, and also providing the taxpayer with information as to what has been done with each quarter's payment of interest to him. All this will mean an enormous expense for American business and financial institutions.

It does not help much to say that a tax deduction is permissible as a business expense for such companies. For this would take care of only $52 out of every $100 expended. Since the corporate tax rate is 52 per cent, how will a company or financial institution get back the other $48 of the expenses which it has incurred solely for the benefit of the United States government?

IT WILL BE argued that the withholding of taxes on salaries and wages has already become accepted and that the expenses of this are borne in part by the companies and in part by the treasury through the corporate-tax deduction process. But while there is some merit in this because of the relationship of employer and employe — with the worker setting his own withholding rate on the basis o festimated tax liability — this does not apply in the case of a bank, which performs an investment service for the depositor. Likewise, the stockholder who receives dividends is not an employe but an investor and the company pays the dividend for the use of the money.

Members of Congress are beginning to become aware of the headaches that face them in the coming elections if they vote in favor of the new bill. Already the mail to senators, who now have the bill before them, is of an unprecedented size.

Citizens are bewildered. Persons of small income are disturbed that they should be deprived even for a single month of the use of their own money, to which it later may turn out that the government wasn't entitled at all.

Foreclosure Boom

By Guthrie Baker

Mortgages are a source of growing concern with foreclosures at a 22-year high. Although small in comparison with all outstanding mortgages, these defaults are growing faster than the total.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has estimated last year's foreclosures at 72,000, the highest level since 1940. This historic low was 10,453 in 1946.

In its last quarterly report covering the first nine months of 1961, the board noted foreclosures continued their rise of the last decade and showed a 45 per cent increase over the year-earlier period.

Besides total mortgages, the foreclosure tally is small. There are no estimates of the foreclosure rate before 1950. But, the figure has climbed steadily from a low of 1.32 per 1,000 mortgages in 1952 to last year's estimated 3.30.

"It's not the number of defaults but their growth that disturbs me," says one mortgage expert. With memories of the wholesale foreclosures during the 1930s, mortgage men foresee no disaster ahead, but feel the time has come to correct the foreclosure trend.

Noting the default rate on mortgages backed by Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration is greater than on conventional mortgages, these bankers believe the agencies should stiffen their lending terms.

An increase in the down payment for VA and FHA loans, they feel, would reduce delinquencies, because the homeowner would have a greater equity interest to protect.

Housing experts feel a hardening of terms on government-backed loans would induce conventional mortgage lenders to stiffen their own standards as well.

Behind the mounting concern over the foreclosure situation are two major changes in the post-war housing market.

First, the abnormally high demand for housing provided a ready market where a delinquent property would be sold with ease.

Second, the inflation of values minimized the loss in the case of a forced sale which frequently resulted in a profit.

Now, however, these twin conditions have disappeared with the slackening of housing demand and the stabilization of values. As a result, more and more delinquent loans are being foreclosed with both the lender and borrower suffering a loss.

Not only is the foreclosure-risk side of the mortgage market at a high and rising level, but the return on mortgage investments has begun to decline in apparent contradiction of the traditional association of rising return with rising risk.

The softening of mortgage yields is attributed to a decline in housing demand and to an increase in the supply of lendable funds.

On the demand side, the Census Bureau has reported that homebuilding activity declined in February for the fourth consecutive month to the lowest level in 14 months, on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Even though February's decline was blamed on heavy rains on the West Coast and to snowfall in the Northeast, observers have begun to question an earlier Department of Commerce forecast that housing starts this year would advance to 1.4 million units from 1.3 million in 1961.

A bigger factor behind the softening of mortgage yields has come from the supply side as commercial banks step up their lending activity in this field.

It's Illegal In Ohio Under The Law

The other day at Columbus, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy issued a statement on bingo in answer to a question from a newspaperman. It follows in part:

"There have been legislative attempts in the past to legalize charitable bingo, but they never have been successful.

"The game of bingo, when played for a consideration and a prize, is a lottery and as such is prohibited in this state."

The attorney general's language is clear—as things now stand bingo is illegal in the state of Ohio.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper also has issued formal opinions that the game is illegal under Ohio law on the same basis—that it constitutes a lottery.

City Council's course should be clear, therefore, on the formal request by four groups that charity bingo be permitted to return to East Liverpool under a strict system of municipal licensing and control.

In view of the state and local rulings, there seems no proper choice but to turn down the request, regardless of whatever safeguards might be proposed.

The fact that bingo reportedly is being played in other parts of Ohio may be just cause for some resentment here, but it does not alter the local situation from a legal standpoint. Two wrongs do not make a right. If others wish to ignore the law, that's their choice. But, in our opinion, it would be clearly ill-advised for East Liverpool to follow suit.

The return of bingo also would leave the door ajar for other questionable games to creep back into the picture.

If bingo ever is legalized by the state, then a re-appraisal would be in order. But so long as it is illegal under Ohio law, the door should remain tightly closed.

For these reasons, it is fairly predictable that an officialdom which was all-forgiving toward GI waywardness last autumn will not soften on Private Owen now that spring has come.

Even the national press has deserted his cause, advancing no arguments about why justice should be tempered with mercy. It's the same press which perked tears last November by serializing stories about the hardships of the called-up boys, but didn't dig deep enough into the facts of the mobilization to discover that the material shortages afflicting the Army are grievous, lasting and crippling. Yes, it has been a strange mobilization, with its every main lesson obscured by political smoke and tidal waves of mawkish sentiment.

SO MUCH TIME and tripe have slipped by that the connection between the booboos on the part of civilian control and the punishment ordered for Bernis have been lost to sight. Is that fair play? Here a lonesome private goes to pokey while all the bureaucrats who misled him into believing he could play Mr. Big with impunity get off the hook.

We start with the directive published by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara which clamped a tighter gag on the U.S. military than they have ever known in peacetime.

It made news in the same hour that the called-up forces said goodbye to home and rolled away to camp. The wisdom of that order was to be questioned on several grounds, among them, that it violated our fundamental liberties, affronted American military tradition and drove still deeper into its shell an armed force high command which is already much too timid. But if that directive had any virtue whatever, it had to be applied to all uniformed men alike.

THAT WASN'T DONE. From the beginning, the called-up enlisted men were interviewed by the correspondents. They were directly quoted, their names being used, in ridicule of the mobilization, the national policy, the President and their administrative superior. Nothing was done about it.

One captain at Fort Devens took summary action against a soldier squawker whose published criticisms were too extreme. The culprit drew some such light punishment as 10 days confinement to camp. Thereon civilian control made a great public show of remitting the sentence, which in effect was a reprimand to the captain for having applied it and a signal to ranks that the gag rule operated under a double standard.

Ultimately, someone had to pay for such official folly, or there could be no recovery. That's the role of little Bernis, probably the most important in his lifetime. But six months in pokey is more than one-half year, easy to say, and mighty hard to do.

Power To Tax

By David Lawrence

Congress Faces Criticism On Witholding Plan

If Uncle Sam orders a bank to take away from a depositor money that belongs to him and isn't owed to the government as income tax, can this become an illegal act for which public officials could be required to stand trial? The question arises as a result of the plight of many citizens of small income who are being told that, under a bill which has just passed the House of Representatives and is before the Senate, the government can order a bank or company to withhold a certain percentage of interest or dividends although there may not be an equivalent amount due in taxes.

David Lawrence

The effect of this action is described in a letter received from a woman in Atlanta, Ga., which reads as follows:

"I wish to call your attention to one harmful feature of the proposed withholding of 20 per cent on stock dividends, and which I have not seen mentioned in the news—that is, the effect it has on the man who owes just a small tax. It seems that if a man owes no tax, he may file an exemption certificate. But there is no relief for the man who owes just a small tax. My family is in the latter group.

"Our taxable income is approximately $4,200 a year, all of it derived from dividends on stocks. My husband and I are past 65 years of age and therefore have double exemptions of $1,200 each — a total of $2,400. We also have a retirement exemption, a 4 per cent credit on dividends, as well as other deductible items.

"Our taxes amount to something like $50 a year, or less. Yet the administration proposes to withhold from our modest income the sum of $840.

"What moral or legal right does it have to do such a thing: Except for the taxes we owe, that money is ours. It does not belong to the government, nor to anyone else. If the government withholds from us money we do not owe, that is confiscation. Promise of a refund does not alter this fact."

IT'S POSSIBLE that many citizens will begin depositing their money in foreign banks or investing in securities in Canada and other countries which are not bound by American law to deduct interest or dividend payments.

It's all very well to say refunds will be made by the federal government here, but red tape could consume months of time, especially as it means singling out hundreds of thousands of income tax returns and giving them a special audit before paying the refunds.

Also, doesn't the government really owe the taxpayer interest for the period it deprives him of a chance to earn interest on his own money?

It is possible, too, that the administration may find itself in a legal tangle it has never faced before — an attempt by corporations and other institutions to obtain from the U. S. Treasury full payment of all expenses incurred in withholding interest and dividend payments. For this involves keeping additional records, notifying the government of the exact amount for which each taxpayer is to be credited, and also providing the taxpayer with information as to what has been done with each quarter's payment of interest to him. All this will mean an enormous expense for American business and financial institutions.

It does not help much to say that a tax deduction is permissible as a business expense for such companies. For this would take care of only $52 out of every $100 expended. Since the corporate tax rate is 52 per cent, how will a company or financial institution get back the other $48 of the expenses which it has incurred solely for the benefit of the United States government?

IT WILL BE argued that the withholding of taxes on salaries and wages has already become accepted and that the expenses of this are borne in part by the companies and in part by the treasury through the corporate-tax deduction process. But while there is some merit in this because of the relationship of employer and employe — with the worker setting his own withholding rate on the basis o festimated tax liability — this does not apply in the case of a bank, which performs an investment service for the depositor. Likewise, the stockholder who receives dividends is not an employe but an investor and the company pays the dividend for the use of the money.

Members of Congress are beginning to become aware of the headaches that face them in the coming elections if they vote in favor of the new bill. Already the mail to senators, who now have the bill before them, is of an unprecedented size.

Citizens are bewildered. Persons of small income are disturbed that they should be deprived even for a single month of the use of their own money, to which it later may turn out that the government wasn't entitled at all.

Foreclosure Boom

By Guthrie Baker

Mortgages are a source of growing concern with foreclosures at a 22-year high. Although small in comparison with all outstanding mortgages, these defaults are growing faster than the total.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has estimated last year's foreclosures at 72,000, the highest level since 1940. This historic low was 10,453 in 1946.

In its last quarterly report covering the first nine months of 1961, the board noted foreclosures continued their rise of the last decade and showed a 45 per cent increase over the year-earlier period.

Besides total mortgages, the foreclosure tally is small. There are no estimates of the foreclosure rate before 1950. But, the figure has climbed steadily from a low of 1.32 per 1,000 mortgages in 1952 to last year's estimated 3.30.

"It's not the number of defaults but their growth that disturbs me," says one mortgage expert. With memories of the wholesale foreclosures during the 1930s, mortgage men foresee no disaster ahead, but feel the time has come to correct the foreclosure trend.

Noting the default rate on mortgages backed by Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration is greater than on conventional mortgages, these bankers believe the agencies should stiffen their lending terms.

An increase in the down payment for VA and FHA loans, they feel, would reduce delinquencies, because the homeowner would have a greater equity interest to protect.

Housing experts feel a hardening of terms on government-backed loans would induce conventional mortgage lenders to stiffen their own standards as well.

Behind the mounting concern over the foreclosure situation are two major changes in the post-war housing market.

First, the abnormally high demand for housing provided a ready market where a delinquent property would be sold with ease.

Second, the inflation of values minimized the loss in the case of a forced sale which frequently resulted in a profit.

Now, however, these twin conditions have disappeared with the slackening of housing demand and the stabilization of values. As a result, more and more delinquent loans are being foreclosed with both the lender and borrower suffering a loss.

Not only is the foreclosure-risk side of the mortgage market at a high and rising level, but the return on mortgage investments has begun to decline in apparent contradiction of the traditional association of rising return with rising risk.

The softening of mortgage yields is attributed to a decline in housing demand and to an increase in the supply of lendable funds.

On the demand side, the Census Bureau has reported that homebuilding activity declined in February for the fourth consecutive month to the lowest level in 14 months, on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Even though February's decline was blamed on heavy rains on the West Coast and to snowfall in the Northeast, observers have begun to question an earlier Department of Commerce forecast that housing starts this year would advance to 1.4 million units from 1.3 million in 1961.

A bigger factor behind the softening of mortgage yields has come from the supply side as commercial banks step up their lending activity in this field.

Church Robber Will Devote Self To Amish Sect

CRANSTON, R. I. (AP) — The Amish folk of Sugarcreek, Ohio, shortly will be getting a visit from a convicted church poor box robber who "got religion" from members of their sect after escaping prison.

He is Ernest C. Collins, who broke out of jail in Rhode Island last summer. He was caught working on a Mennonite farm at Goshen, Ind.

Now paroled thanks to his newfound faith after serving only about eight months of what might have been a long sentence, Collins is going back to Goshen to resume farm life — and devote himself further to Mennonite Church work.

Collins, 23, was baptised in the Amish sect of the church last July. Representatives of the sect met him as he emerged from prison to accompany him back to Indiana.

Collins was a model prisoner after his return from freedom. "You're supposed to love thy neighbor," explained the young Rhode Islander.

Mechanics' Pay Talks Continue

No progress was made toward a settlement Monday night in the latest in a series of meetings between city auto mechanics and operators of auto agencies and repair shops.

Eurshel T. Powell of Litten's, president of Ceramic City Auto Mechanics Lodge 1019 of the International Association of Machinists, said no settlement was reached at the meeting, the fifth session which has been held with the East Liverpool Dealers Association and Repair Shops organization to work out a new contract.

However, a federal mediator from the Akron area has arranged another meeting for April 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Travelers Hotel. Harry Y. George, operator of Litten's, is secretary - treasurer of the dealers' group.

The mechanics have continued to work on a day-to-day basis since the old contract expired March 23.

Civil War Group Supports Morgan Raid Re-Enactment

A move to organize a re-enactment of Gen. John Morgan's famed Civil War raid through Indiana and Ohio was given a boost by the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable at a meeting Tuesday night at the Carnegie Public Library.

The roundtable approved a proposal by Edwin Pugh of Wellsville to seek support from the Civil War Centennial Commission for a re-enactment of the July 1863 cavalry raid.

The commission is to meet shortly at Columbus. Pugh was instrumental forming a tour of the route of the raiders in this area a few years ago.

Morgan and remnants of his Confederate troops were captured by Union horsemen near West Point.

William Campbell of Salineville, a civilian, along with William Pittenger and Perry Shadrach of Knoxville, Jefferson County, were among the 22 men who seized a Confederate train at Big Shanty, Ga., but were finally captured after a wild chase.

Robert Cole of Salineville said last night the Salineville Historical Society plans to erect a plaque at Woodland Cemetery in memory of Campbell who, along with Shadrach and five other men were hanged for their part in the raid. Pittenger and other survivors received the nation's first Congressional Medals of Honor.

The roundtable will meet again May 8 when Mr. and Mrs. Pugh, who plan to visit Eastern Virginia this month to tour the site of Gen. George McClellan's Peninsular Campaign of 1862, will report on the trip.

Vice President Going Literary

Johnson Studding Talks With Classical References

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is going literary.

Johnson, whose 25 years on the national scene have included some rough and tumble politicking, is beginning to stud his speeches with classical and historical references that seldom found their way into his sometimes bluntly phrased remarks in the past.

The feeling among some of his associates is that Johnson is taking a page out of the book of President Kennedy, who operates with an acute sense of history and from a seemingly inexhaustible store of quotations.

Johnson could feel that it would be no drawback to a man who might like to run for president in 1968 to be known as one who has delved into the scholarly accomplishments of the past and can apply them to today's problems.

In his most recent speech, before a Pennsylvania State University audience Tuesday, Johnson cited quotations from Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, Alexis Charles Henri Maurice Clerel de Tocqueville and H. G. Wells to drive home his points.

Four days earlier, in a talk to labor editors, Johnson drew on the wisdom of Edmund Burke, Wendell Phillips, Thomas Jefferson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Justice Tom C. Clark and the 19th century cartoon character, Mr. Dooley.

The literary an historical outpouring might seem to be an adjunct to the general effort to overhaul the political image of Johnson as a once-provincial Texan and to present him as a well-rounded leader in world affairs.

Twenty-five senators devoted two hours to congratulating and praising Johnson Tuesday on the 25th anniversary of his first election to Congress from the 10th Texas District. Previously Kennedy and party leaders had started the backpatting going at a White House conference.

At the conclusion, Johnson replied in a barely audible and suitably humble voice his thanks and his hopes that he could live up to the high esteem of his colleagues.

Film Shows Japanese Plant Erected On Reclaimed Land

An example of Japanese ingenuity — construction of a new steel mill on a site that was once open sea — was illustrated in a color film screened at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The 27-minute long movie showed the building of the Tobata plant of the Yawata Iron & Steel Co.

Lacking room on the densely-populated islands for such a huge project, the Japanese turned to the open sea to reclaim 2,000 acres of harbor for the location of the new mill.

Immense circular steel piers were built in an open harbor, allowed to sink to solid bedrock, and then filled with earth and concrete to form a foundation for blast furnaces and other equipment.

The film pointed out the unusual location affords excellent docking facilities in open sea for commercial ships exporting steel products and importing supplies of coke and other raw materials for the mill.

Citing the impact of Japanese manufacturing on the world market, the narrator commented that the plant's construction was "only the beginning" and added that the mill is "an example of the miraculous imagination of Japanese ability to create new wealth."

The movie was screened by Glen Roberts, superintendent of public relations for the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland, who said the impact of Japanese steel manufacturing "is being duplicated in the chinaware, electronics and electrical industries."

"Japan's new wealth will be a challenge to our system, giving us competition from ingenuous, hard - working people," Roberts said. There are 3,100 employes from this area at Crucible, he added.

It was pointed out in connection with the film that Japanese-made nails can be purchased in Cleveland for $2 cheaper per keg than from Cleveland sources.

Roberts said the film will be screened at a quarterly meeting of executives of the CIO in May. He was introduced by Theodore H. Kashuba, program chairman.

Dr. R. Jay Kinsey, president, presided. Guests included Charles Smith, president of the Midland Rotary Club, Sam Pollock of Steubenville, past district governor, and Dick Ellsworth of Akron.

Vice President Going Literary

Johnson Studding Talks With Classical References

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is going literary.

Johnson, whose 25 years on the national scene have included some rough and tumble politicking, is beginning to stud his speeches with classical and historical references that seldom found their way into his sometimes bluntly phrased remarks in the past.

The feeling among some of his associates is that Johnson is taking a page out of the book of President Kennedy, who operates with an acute sense of history and from a seemingly inexhaustible store of quotations.

Johnson could feel that it would be no drawback to a man who might like to run for president in 1968 to be known as one who has delved into the scholarly accomplishments of the past and can apply them to today's problems.

In his most recent speech, before a Pennsylvania State University audience Tuesday, Johnson cited quotations from Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, Alexis Charles Henri Maurice Clerel de Tocqueville and H. G. Wells to drive home his points.

Four days earlier, in a talk to labor editors, Johnson drew on the wisdom of Edmund Burke, Wendell Phillips, Thomas Jefferson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Justice Tom C. Clark and the 19th century cartoon character, Mr. Dooley.

The literary an historical outpouring might seem to be an adjunct to the general effort to overhaul the political image of Johnson as a once-provincial Texan and to present him as a well-rounded leader in world affairs.

Twenty-five senators devoted two hours to congratulating and praising Johnson Tuesday on the 25th anniversary of his first election to Congress from the 10th Texas District. Previously Kennedy and party leaders had started the backpatting going at a White House conference.

At the conclusion, Johnson replied in a barely audible and suitably humble voice his thanks and his hopes that he could live up to the high esteem of his colleagues.

Lisbon Board Airs Need Of Playlot Land

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night discussed the need for additional land for playground purposes at the McKinley School and designated two members to contact owners of the required area.

When the new addition of 14 rooms is completed at the elementary school, there will be very little space for playlot purposes as the project will take up most of the present play area.

About 450 pupils will remain at school for lunch each day and over 550 at each recess, indicating the need for the new play area.

Edwin Kauffman, vice president, Atty. Richard Kennedy will contact owners for the playlot land and for space for school buses.

In other business, Supt. Russell Armitage was instructed to obtain bids for the new 66 passenger school buses to replace 10-year-old vehicles now in use. It is hoped to have them by the beginning of fall term. The school district has eight buses in operation and one spare.

Supt. Armitage was authorized to purchase 210 units of desk and chair for new rooms at McKinley, along with five desks for teachers and shelves for the library in the addition.

The board authorized painting of McKinley school this summer, inside and exterior trim, and blacktopping of driveways and playground at the Lincoln School. The estimated cost is $3,556 for the playground and $1,712 for the driveways.

Mrs. Nellie Thorne and Mrs. Grace Smith of the report card study committee said the new report cards will be issued four times each school year, nine weeks apart, instead of six weeks. This will be for Grades 1 through 6 for the present. Junior high and high school report cards will remain on a six-week schedule.

Supt. Armitage reported eight teachers are resigning at the end of the term, along with a secretary and a bus driver.

Resigning are Mrs. Helen Goodballet, fourth grade and a teacher for 38 years; Miss Barbara Dei, English and speech; William Haskett, science; Mrs. Betty Strabley, commercial; Mrs. Patricia Fleming, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Sandra Borrow, fifth; Mrs. Janet Watson, first; Mrs. Sandra Rowen, second; Mrs. Betty Crosser, secretary, and Tom Reynolds, bus driver.

He asked approval to hire Mrs. Betty Day of Lisbon R.D. 1, a teacher at Franklin Local; Guy Wells as janitor and bus driver; a cook for McKinley School, clerk for the cafeteria at McKinley; Harold Windram and Mrs. Betty Harrod, bus drivers; Mrs. William Carlisle, Mrs. William Schmidt and Mrs. George Riggle, crossing guards, and Dorothy Foster as secretary.

Bills of $50,045 were read and ordered paid. Next meeting is May 8 at 8:30 p.m.

Gen. Clay Slated For Special Duty On Berlin Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay will shortly wind up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin but will continue to serve as a special consultant to the President on Berlin policy, informants reported today.

Clay announced in Berlin that he would leave today for Washington for consultations with Kennedy. A spokesman said he would return to Berlin Monday.

The informants in Washington said Clay will go back to Berlin next weekend for a short time but that it is definite his assignment as Kennedy's special representative in the crisis-ridden city is coming to an end.

Clay, 65, undertook the job on a temporary basis last summer in the period of intense crisis following Communist construction of the wall sealing off East Berlin. Termination of the assignment apparently is related to the drop in tension which has followed the talks in Geneva last month between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Clay is expected to go back to work as chairman of the board of Continental Can Co. as soon as he can wrap up his affairs in Berlin.

Man At Palestine Given Dismissal In Check Charge

An East Palestine area man accused of passing a fraudulent $50 check Nov. 10 at the Loblaw, Inc., Market on Bradshaw Ave. won a dismissal Tuesday in Municipal Court at the request of the store manager, who said the defendant has made restitution.

James Show of East Palestine R. D. 1 was named in an affidavit filed Dec. 12 by Edward A. Suz, the market manager. The warrant was served Monday at 1 p. m. by Patrolman William A. Devon and Floyd K. Heddleston, police said.

Show appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff yesterday with Atty. W. S. Foulks as his counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court Show had made restitution and Suz wished to withdraw the charge.

Judge Chertoff dismissed the affidavit, ordering Show to pay the $7.50 costs. The charge alleged that Show gave the store a $50 check made out to "cash" and drawn on the First National Bank of East Palestine, "then knowing he had insufficient funds and credit with the bank."

Show's counsel said he was away from home after drawing the check and believed that a deposit had been made to cover the draft.

Hope Expressed To Ransom 1,179 Cuban Prisoners

HAVANA (AP) — Negotiators seeking to ransom 1,179 Cuban invasion prisoners appeared hopeful today after a four-hour meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"There is hope," said one of the exile delegation of three men and a woman after the long session. A spokesman for the negotiators said they were hopeful the prime minister would see them again.

The delegation refused to give details of their meeting with Castro, held at the home of friends of the negotiators.

News of the meeting Tuesday apparently reached the prisoners held in Principe Prison. Joyous shouts rang out from their cell blocks. Some prisoners waved undershirts from behind the barred windows to friends and relatives gathered outside.

The negotiating team arrived from Miami Tuesday in an effort to get the Castro regime to reduce its demand for $62-million ransom for the prisoners. They said they have $26 million at their disposal, have been pledged $2 million more and might also be able to offer merchandise.

As he will be so near, arrangements were made for him to speak. He is a native of Harrisburg.

Details of the parade and other program arrangements will be announced later. The Wellsville Memorial Council, comprised of representatives from the various veterans groups, is in charge of the services. Emmett Daniels is president.

The council will meet Thursday night at 8:30 at VFW Post 9285.

The original speaker was to have been Maj. Col. H. F. Harding, commander of the 83rd Infantry Division. He later was ordered to Europe. The original announcement was made tentatively as it was not known for sure if Gen. Harding could appear.

The northernmost point of land in the world is Cape Morris K. Jessup, at the northereastern extremity of Greenland, with a latitude of 83 degrees north.

"COLLEGE COSTS TO DOUBLE BY 1970"...*

PLANNED SAVING NOW PAYS THEIR WAY THEN!

KNOWLEDGEABLE people are predicting that a bachelors degree will be routine, a masters degree commonplace just a few years hence. It follows that those with the best education will have the greatest opportunity for success in the years to come. Will your youngsters have that opportunity?

They will if you begin a planned program of saving for future educational needs. It is really surprising how a modest amount saved monthly here grows in eighteen years. Our savings officer will be glad to help you set up a savings plan for their future. Give them the greatest gift, start saving tomorrow.

Lisbon Board Airs Need Of Playlot Land

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night discussed the need for additional land for playground purposes at the McKinley School and designated two members to contact owners of the required area.

When the new addition of 14 rooms is completed at the elementary school, there will be very little space for playlot purposes as the project will take up most of the present play area.

About 450 pupils will remain at school for lunch each day and over 550 at each recess, indicating the need for the new play area.

Edwin Kauffman, vice president, Atty. Richard Kennedy will contact owners for the playlot land and for space for school buses.

In other business, Supt. Russell Armitage was instructed to obtain bids for the new 66 passenger school buses to replace 10-year-old vehicles now in use. It is hoped to have them by the beginning of fall term. The school district has eight buses in operation and one spare.

Supt. Armitage was authorized to purchase 210 units of desk and chair for new rooms at McKinley, along with five desks for teachers and shelves for the library in the addition.

The board authorized painting of McKinley school this summer, inside and exterior trim, and blacktopping of driveways and playground at the Lincoln School. The estimated cost is $3,556 for the playground and $1,712 for the driveways.

Mrs. Nellie Thorne and Mrs. Grace Smith of the report card study committee said the new report cards will be issued four times each school year, nine weeks apart, instead of six weeks. This will be for Grades 1 through 6 for the present. Junior high and high school report cards will remain on a six-week schedule.

Supt. Armitage reported eight teachers are resigning at the end of the term, along with a secretary and a bus driver.

Resigning are Mrs. Helen Goodballet, fourth grade and a teacher for 38 years; Miss Barbara Dei, English and speech; William Haskett, science; Mrs. Betty Strabley, commercial; Mrs. Patricia Fleming, seventh and eighth grades; Mrs. Sandra Borrow, fifth; Mrs. Janet Watson, first; Mrs. Sandra Rowen, second; Mrs. Betty Crosser, secretary, and Tom Reynolds, bus driver.

He asked approval to hire Mrs. Betty Day of Lisbon R.D. 1, a teacher at Franklin Local; Guy Wells as janitor and bus driver; a cook for McKinley School, clerk for the cafeteria at McKinley; Harold Windram and Mrs. Betty Harrod, bus drivers; Mrs. William Carlisle, Mrs. William Schmidt and Mrs. George Riggle, crossing guards, and Dorothy Foster as secretary.

Bills of $50,045 were read and ordered paid. Next meeting is May 8 at 8:30 p.m.

Gen. Clay Slated For Special Duty On Berlin Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay will shortly wind up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin but will continue to serve as a special consultant to the President on Berlin policy, informants reported today.

Clay announced in Berlin that he would leave today for Washington for consultations with Kennedy. A spokesman said he would return to Berlin Monday.

The informants in Washington said Clay will go back to Berlin next weekend for a short time but that it is definite his assignment as Kennedy's special representative in the crisis-ridden city is coming to an end.

Clay, 65, undertook the job on a temporary basis last summer in the period of intense crisis following Communist construction of the wall sealing off East Berlin. Termination of the assignment apparently is related to the drop in tension which has followed the talks in Geneva last month between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Clay is expected to go back to work as chairman of the board of Continental Can Co. as soon as he can wrap up his affairs in Berlin.

Man At Palestine Given Dismissal In Check Charge

An East Palestine area man accused of passing a fraudulent $50 check Nov. 10 at the Loblaw, Inc., Market on Bradshaw Ave. won a dismissal Tuesday in Municipal Court at the request of the store manager, who said the defendant has made restitution.

James Show of East Palestine R. D. 1 was named in an affidavit filed Dec. 12 by Edward A. Suz, the market manager. The warrant was served Monday at 1 p. m. by Patrolman William A. Devon and Floyd K. Heddleston, police said.

Show appeared before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff yesterday with Atty. W. S. Foulks as his counsel. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court Show had made restitution and Suz wished to withdraw the charge.

Judge Chertoff dismissed the affidavit, ordering Show to pay the $7.50 costs. The charge alleged that Show gave the store a $50 check made out to "cash" and drawn on the First National Bank of East Palestine, "then knowing he had insufficient funds and credit with the bank."

Show's counsel said he was away from home after drawing the check and believed that a deposit had been made to cover the draft.

Advertising for offers for the purchase of a gasoline motor-driven electric generator was authorized by the Triangle Amateur Radio Club at a meeting Monday night at the Smith St. quarters.

The club is seeking a three-tenths kilowatt generator for operating radio equipment on the annual Field Day in June and for emergency communications.

Richard Sisley, vice president, heads a committee to locate available generators. Harry Aivalotis and Larry Armstrong are on the committee.

Charles Burke was appointed Field Day chairman.

Hope Expressed To Ransom 1,179 Cuban Prisoners

HAVANA (AP) — Negotiators seeking to ransom 1,179 Cuban invasion prisoners appeared hopeful today after a four-hour meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"There is hope," said one of the exile delegation of three men and a woman after the long session. A spokesman for the negotiators said they were hopeful the prime minister would see them again.

The delegation refused to give details of their meeting with Castro, held at the home of friends of the negotiators.

News of the meeting Tuesday apparently reached the prisoners held in Principe Prison. Joyous shouts rang out from their cell blocks. Some prisoners waved undershirts from behind the barred windows to friends and relatives gathered outside.

The negotiating team arrived from Miami Tuesday in an effort to get the Castro regime to reduce its demand for $62-million ransom for the prisoners. They said they have $26 million at their disposal, have been pledged $2 million more and might also be able to offer merchandise.

Firemen At Midland Finish Banquet Plans

Midland volunteer fire company No. 1 met Monday evening and plans were reported set for an annual banquet May 12 and a carnival July 1-4.

Tony Monaco, president, presided at the meeting in firemen's quarters in the Borough Building. The banquet will be held at Deramo's Restaurant and firemen with 25 years service will be honored. Heck's Amusements of East Liverpool will provide rides for the carnival.

Next meeting is May 14.

Memorial Rites Speaker Chosen

A speaker has been obtained for the annual Memorial Day services May 30 at Wellsville.

He is Lt. Col. Michael Koman, an Army Reserve officer.

Col. Koman devotes most of his time as a professional lecturer and teacher in the Miami (Fla.) area, but will be on duty at the Army Corps School at Ft. Knox, Ky., during June.

As he will be so near, arrangements were made for him to speak. He is a native of Harrisburg.

Details of the parade and other program arrangements will be announced later. The Wellsville Memorial Council, comprised of representatives from the various veterans groups, is in charge of the services. Emmett Daniels is president.

The council will meet Thursday night at 8:30 at VFW Post 9285.

The original speaker was to have been Maj. Col. H. F. Harding, commander of the 83rd Infantry Division. He later was ordered to Europe. The original announcement was made tentatively as it was not known for sure if Gen. Harding could appear.

The northernmost point of land in the world is Cape Morris K. Jessup, at the northeastern extremity of Greenland, with a latitude of 83 degrees north.

5 In Chamber Wait Session

A five-man delegation will represent the Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber April 29-May 2 in Washington, it was announced Tuesday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The delegation will include Alvin T. Babb, president; Charles Taylor, vice president; A. C. Purinton Jr., treasurer; Paul Bloor, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager.

The board also voted to hold the annual spring membership meeting in late May. Details will be arranged by the banquet and entertainment committee, headed by John Pinney.

Membership applications were approved from the Skirt Minnow Seine Manufacturing Co. of Chester and Mason's Foodliner of Wellsville.

The board agreed to investigate the possibility of publishing a new brochure on the East Liverpool area, explaining its natural resources and community facilities. The present brochure was published in 1958. It is distributed to persons and firms seeking information on the community.

A series of committee reports was presented. They included:

Public education, Ralph W. Betts; civic and community affairs, J. Norman Nicely; East Liverpool Merchants Association, Don Eckert; membership, George A. Shaw, and highways, Atty. Francis H. Lang.

Nicely's report discussed the Chamber's participation in the annual citywide spring cleanup drive in May. Eckert's report included details on the annual spring outing of the merchants May 16 — highlighted by a trip to Pittsburgh via chartered bus to attend a Pirate baseball game.

In his report on progress on area highway improvements, Atty. Lang announced his committee will meet Thursday at 4 p.m. in the Chamber office.

A Wellsville driver and a youth who was a passenger escaped injury when their car struck guardrails and overturned on Route 45 between Wellsville and West Point Tuesday night, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

George B. Morris, 21, of 1820 Clark Ave., Wellsville, told officers he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming auto while headed south at 10:35 p. m.

Palestine Club Told Of Light Plant Work

EAST PALESTINE — Safety-Service Director George McGuckin described progress of a major improvement project at the municipal power plant at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

McGuckin said the first phase of installation of a new turbine generator and 80,000-pound boiler at the plant will be finished in December. Construction of a new "high line" and some other facilities are completed.

Members toured the plant afterward.

French Police Recover 8 Stolen Masterpieces

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Police reported the recovery from a parked car of eight paintings by Paul Cezanne stolen last August from the Aix-en-Provence Museum.

The masterpieces were valued by officials at $2 million, and the haul was the biggest in the wave of art thefts that swept Western Europe and particularly the French Riviera in 1960 and 1961.

Police told an incredible story of the recovery. They said the paintings were found in the back seat of a stolen automobile, carrying false license numbers, that had been left on a Marseille street with one window broken.

Police said they found the car Monday but left it in place and kept a lookout on it. No one approached the car to recover the paintings.

Because of the unique quality of the paintings and their fame, experts had assumed all along that the thieves would be unable to sell them to a dealer.

An art expert authenticated the recovered paintings. He said they had been stripped from their wooden support frames but were all in perfect condition.

The paintings were stolen from a special exhibit being held in the birthplace of the impressionist master. Most of the paintings had been loaned by museums or private collectors. Unlike most art works in public museums, the Cezannes were insured because they were on loan for a special exhibit.

The most famous of the stolen paintings was "The Card Players" from the Louvre.

The burglars cut through a window and made off with the paintings without disturbing two armed guards in an adjoining room and the director of the exhibition pavilion, who lived in the building.

Brush Fire Quelled

NEW CUMBERLAND — Volunteer firemen extinguished a small brush fire Tuesday afternoon at 4 on Route 66, about a mile north.

Public Meeting Set On Palestine Sewage Plans

EAST PALESTINE — A public meeting concerning plans for a proposed $331,000 new sewage disposal plant will be held Tuesday night at 8 at the City Hall, Mayor Robert Harding announced today.

The meeting has been called to determine public sentiment regarding financing and other plans for the project.

Representatives of the Floyd Browne Associates of Marion, engineers who made a survey of the present facility and needs in 1961, and the Ohio Health Department will attend.

Council last week referred the proposed project to the sewer committee which had been asked to file a report next Monday. However, the sewer committee, at a meeting earlier this week, suggested a public session.

The city has until July 1 to file application for a federal loan for the project, which would provide a new plant, using parts of the present structure built in 1937.

French Police Recover 8 Stolen Masterpieces

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Police reported the recovery from a parked car of eight paintings by Paul Cezanne stolen last August from the Aix-en-Provence Museum.

The masterpieces were valued by officials at $2 million, and the haul was the biggest in the wave of art thefts that swept Western Europe and particularly the French Riviera in 1960 and 1961.

Police told an incredible story of the recovery. They said the paintings were found in the back seat of a stolen automobile, carrying false license numbers, that had been left on a Marseille street with one window broken.

Police said they found the car Monday but left it in place and kept a lookout on it. No one approached the car to recover the paintings.

Because of the unique quality of the paintings and their fame, experts had assumed all along that the thieves would be unable to sell them to a dealer.

An art expert authenticated the recovered paintings. He said they had been stripped from their wooden support frames but were all in perfect condition.

The paintings were stolen from a special exhibit being held in the birthplace of the impressionist master. Most of the paintings had been loaned by museums or private collectors. Unlike most art works in public museums, the Cezannes were insured because they were on loan for a special exhibit.

The most famous of the stolen paintings was "The Card Players" from the Louvre.

The burglars cut through a window and made off with the paintings without disturbing two armed guards in an adjoining room and the director of the exhibition pavilion, who lived in the building.

Public Meeting Set On Palestine Sewage Plans

EAST PALESTINE — A public meeting concerning plans for a proposed $331,000 new sewage disposal plant will be held Tuesday night at 8 at the City Hall, Mayor Robert Harding announced today.

The meeting has been called to determine public sentiment regarding financing and other plans for the project.

Representatives of the Floyd Browne Associates of Marion, engineers who made a survey of the present facility and needs in 1961, and the Ohio Health Department will attend.

Council last week referred the proposed project to the sewer committee which had been asked to file a report next Monday. However, the sewer committee, at a meeting earlier this week, suggested a public session.

The city has until July 1 to file application for a federal loan for the project, which would provide a new plant, using parts of the present structure built in 1937.

Safety Chief Gives Views On Driver's License Tests

CLEVELAND (AP)—J. Grant Keys, director of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, supports the practice of giving driver's license tests in English to newcomers from other countries.

Keys was one of several officials who gave their views on the problem Tuesday at a meeting of the Cleveland Automobile Club. The club has suggested foreign-born persons might be allowed to take the written examinations in their native languages.

Keys said that, with increased future traffic, "we must find means to carry traffic at higher speeds with more and more vehicles in less area."

This will mean warning signs farther in advance on highways, he said, and that drivers will have to be better equipped for faster traffic.

Anthony J. Suster, director of the Nationalities Services Center, cited the problem of newcomers facing the language barrier. He said they have to get to jobs not easily accessible by public transportation.

Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, state highway patrol superintendent, answered Suster by saying:

"I don't subscribe to the idea they should come here one day and drive the next day because they get a job on the other side of town."

Cleveland Police Chief Frank Story said the important thing is: "Does the person know what the sign means?"

Mrs. Paul J. Gnau, auto club safety director, contended use of native languages in the written tests would not lower standards.

Keys said the proposal would be studied.

Sen. Pepple Attacks Big City 'Bossism'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen, a candidate for nomination for U.S. senator, says big city political bossism "has played a large part in doubling Ohio's budget during the last six years."

The Lima Republican, addressing the downtown Optimist Club here Tuesday said many big city party chairmen are political boss rather than political leaders.

Pepple said too many endorsements of candidates are made individually by chairmen, rather than by scanning committees which seek to secure the best men for office. "Such individual power," he said, "can and often does end in corruption and the choice of the very worst candidates."

Great Britain, Brazil, and Switzerland preceded the United States in the use of postage stamps for the mailing of letters.

Boost In Tax Credit Asked By Power System President

WASHINGTON — The American Electric Power System is prepared to proceed immediately with additional projects totaling $21 million over and above its presently scheduled construction programs if Congress includes an incentive tax credit of 7 per cent for electric utility expansion in tax legislation now before the Senate Finance Committee.

This statement was made by Donald C. Cook, president of the American Electric Power Co. and of the Ohio Power Co., during committee hearings this week.

Cook said that the AEP System, which provides electric service to 5.4-million people in seven East-Central states, would be able to embark upon additional construction totaling close to $9 million if the tax credit is limited to 3 per cent for utilities. This figure is included in the $21 million additional expenditure with the full 7 per cent credit.

He also declared that the AEP System, while already among those utilities having the lowest electric rates in the United States, currently is studying further rate reductions that could be made possible by the availability of a tax credit. "The action of this committee and of the Congress on this bill will either make possible or prevent these rate decreases," Cook said.

As passed earlier by the House of Representatives, the tax bill now before the Senate calls for a tax credit of 7 per cent to virtually all industry to encourage additional capital investment —and thus economic growth. The House version, however, limits the credit to 3 per cent for electric utilities.

Cook's appearance before the Senate committee was in support of equal treatment for utilities in the incentive tax credit program and to refute the administration's arguments in continuing to press for exclusion of utilities from the program.

He said that his testimony was intended to show that, in the case of electric utilities, "the tax credit will do more to increase construction — and therefore to bring about the desired growth in the economy — than in the case of non-utilities."

Safety Chief Gives Views On Driver's License Tests

CLEVELAND (AP)—J. Grant Keys, director of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, supports the practice of giving driver's license tests in English to newcomers from other countries.

Keys was one of several officials who gave their views on the problem Tuesday at a meeting of the Cleveland Automobile Club. The club has suggested foreign-born persons might be allowed to take the written examinations in their native languages.

Keys said that, with increased future traffic, "we must find means to carry traffic at higher speeds with more and more vehicles in less area."

This will mean warning signs farther in advance on highways, he said, and that drivers will have to be better equipped for faster traffic.

Anthony J. Suster, director of the Nationalities Services Center, cited the problem of newcomers facing the language barrier. He said they have to get to jobs not easily accessible by public transportation.

Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, state highway patrol superintendent, answered Suster by saying:

"I don't subscribe to the idea they should come here one day and drive the next day because they get a job on the other side of town."

Cleveland Police Chief Frank Story said the important thing is: "Does the person know what the sign means?"

Mrs. Paul J. Gnau, auto club safety director, contended use of native languages in the written tests would not lower standards.

Keys said the proposal would be studied.

Before 500 At Luncheon

DiSalle, McElroy Trade Verbal Blows On Topics

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has challenged all candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to take a public stand on utility rate law revisions.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, his political rival who appeared on the same program Tuesday, described Ohio's mental health program as "the most obsolete program that can be found" in the country.

The two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor exchanged verbal blows on several topics before 500 persons at a Knights of Columbus luncheon.

McElroy, who spoke first, said the present administration's major accomplishment in mental hygiene and correction has been "the removal of patients from state institutions to nursing homes because of their advanced age."

He accused the governor of staging "surprise visits to state mental hospitals with no other apparent purpose than to derive public attention."

Gov. DiSalle said Ohioans could be proud of the state's program for treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded. "There isn't a mental hospital in Ohio today that isn't giving better treatment than in January 1959" when DiSalle took office, he said.

"Unfortunately, it isn't as good as it was in June 1961, when the program had to be reduced because of cuts in legislative appropriations," DiSalle added.

In a counter-attack dealing with the utility rate base formula, Gov. DiSalle said:

"My position is clear and unequivocal on the need for a change in this outmoded method of keeping the consumers subjugated to a system that all fair-minded observers feel is unjust."

To protect consumers against excessive rates, the governor said, the present formula must be modified, adding:

"I recommended a 'fair value method' of establishing utility rates. This was an attempt to meet the utilities half way. But some of the more greedy of the utilities, with the help of Republican legislators, were successful in scuttling this effort."

He said he thought the public should know whether other candidates for governor believe Ohio "should again be the only state using the unique, unfair and unreasonable methods as a basis for establishing utility rates."

He pointed out that East Ohio Gas Co. has asked for a rate increase that would cost consumers nearly $35 million and that other utilities have indicated they will seek higher rates.

McElroy did not comment on the utility rate law revisions.

Wheeling Sets Debate On Liquor-By-Drink

WHEELING (AP) — A public debate on the liquor-by-the-drink amendment to the state constitution will be held here tonight with leaders of the two opposing camps as participants.

Chester P. Hubbard of Wheeling, a veteran state legislator who was instrumental in having the issue placed on the November election ballot, will argue in favor of adoption. The Rev. L. E. Crowson of Logan, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Defeat of the Liquor Amendment, will argue against adoption.

West Virginia Police Hunt Bank Robber

MIDDLEBOURNE, W. Va. (AP)—State Police continued an all-out manhunt today for the bandit who held up the Tyler County Bank here and fled with nearly $5,000.

Some 20 to 25 officers confined the search to a 5-mile radius around Middlebourne, where they believed the robber was holed up.

Several persons told police they had spotted a man fitting the description of the bandit walking along W. Va. 18.

Safe Motoring Topic Of Judge At Chester Club

Driver education and seat belts were commended for providing safer motoring in a talk by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff of East Liverpool before the Chester Lions Club Tuesday night.

"I believe in the 'Three E's' in driving — engineering, education and enforcement," Judge Chertoff said. "I think safety belts are one of the finest things installed in a car, and they really work."

"I'm selling traffic safety," the jurist declared, "because there is nothing more precious than a life."

"It is murder to drive while drinking," he commented. "I'm rough on drunken drivers," he said, adding he had cut the number of drunken driving cases 50 per cent last year.

"They can pay their fines, but it is the suspension of license and jail sentence that really hurts." He was introduced by Robert Smith, program chairman.

FOP Unit Takes Issue With Robert Kennedy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A national Fraternal Order of Police committee, headed by Lorain County, Ohio, Sheriff Vernon M. Smith, has taken a stand at issue with recent proposals by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Smith's committee recommended legislation Tuesday making it a federal crime to falsely accuse a police officer of a civil rights violation. The committee said this was a stand against Atty. Gen. Kennedy's civil rights proposals to Congress. Kennedy recommended changes in federal statutes relating to cases of alleged police brutality.

The committee — the National Committee on Human Rights and Law Enforcement — said it also will ask Congress to make assaulting a police officer in the performance of his duty a federal offense.

Before 500 At Luncheon

DiSalle, McElroy Trade Verbal Blows On Topics

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has challenged all candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to take a public stand on utility rate law revisions.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, his political rival who appeared on the same program Tuesday, described Ohio's mental health program as "the most obsolete program that can be found" in the country.

The two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor exchanged verbal blows on several topics before 500 persons at a Knights of Columbus luncheon.

McElroy, who spoke first, said the present administration's major accomplishment in mental hygiene and correction has been "the removal of patients from state institutions to nursing homes because of their advanced age."

He accused the governor of staging "surprise visits to state mental hospitals with no other apparent purpose than to derive public attention."

Gov. DiSalle said Ohioans could be proud of the state's program for treatment of the mentally ill and mentally retarded. "There isn't a mental hospital in Ohio today that isn't giving better treatment than in January 1959" when DiSalle took office, he said.

"Unfortunately, it isn't as good as it was in June 1961, when the program had to be reduced because of cuts in legislative appropriations," DiSalle added.

In a counter-attack dealing with the utility rate base formula, Gov. DiSalle said:

"My position is clear and unequivocal on the need for a change in this outmoded method of keeping the consumers subjugated to a system that all fair-minded observers feel is unjust."

To protect consumers against excessive rates, the governor said, the present formula must be modified, adding:

"I recommended a 'fair value method' of establishing utility rates. This was an attempt to meet the utilities half way. But some of the more greedy of the utilities, with the help of Republican legislators, were successful in scuttling this effort."

He said he thought the public should know whether other candidates for governor believe Ohio "should again be the only state using the unique, unfair and unreasonable methods as a basis for establishing utility rates."

He pointed out that East Ohio Gas Co. has asked for a rate increase that would cost consumers nearly $35 million and that other utilities have indicated they will seek higher rates.

McElroy did not comment on the utility rate law revisions.

Wheeling Sets Debate On Liquor-By-Drink

WHEELING (AP) — A public debate on the liquor-by-the-drink amendment to the state constitution will be held here tonight with leaders of the two opposing camps as participants.

Chester P. Hubbard of Wheeling, a veteran state legislator who was instrumental in having the issue placed on the November election ballot, will argue in favor of adoption. The Rev. L. E. Crowson of Logan, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Defeat of the Liquor Amendment, will argue against adoption.

West Virginia Police Hunt Bank Robber

MIDDLEBOURNE, W. Va. (AP)—State Police continued an all-out manhunt today for the bandit who held up the Tyler County Bank here and fled with nearly $5,000.

Some 20 to 25 officers confined the search to a 5-mile radius around Middlebourne, where they believed the robber was holed up.

Several persons told police they had spotted a man fitting the description of the bandit walking along W. Va. 18.

Safe Motoring Topic Of Judge At Chester Club

Driver education and seat belts were commended for providing safer motoring in a talk by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff of East Liverpool before the Chester Lions Club Tuesday night.

"I believe in the 'Three E's' in driving — engineering, education and enforcement," Judge Chertoff said. "I think safety belts are one of the finest things installed in a car, and they really work."

"I'm selling traffic safety," the jurist declared, "because there is nothing more precious than a life."

"It is murder to drive while drinking," he commented. "I'm rough on drunken drivers," he said, adding he had cut the number of drunken driving cases 50 per cent last year.

"They can pay their fines, but it is the suspension of license and jail sentence that really hurts." He was introduced by Robert Smith, program chairman.

FOP Unit Takes Issue With Robert Kennedy

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A national Fraternal Order of Police committee, headed by Lorain County, Ohio, Sheriff Vernon M. Smith, has taken a stand at issue with recent proposals by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Smith's committee recommended legislation Tuesday making it a federal crime to falsely accuse a police officer of a civil rights violation. The committee said this was a stand against Atty. Gen. Kennedy's civil rights proposals to Congress. Kennedy recommended changes in federal statutes relating to cases of alleged police brutality.

The committee — the National Committee on Human Rights and Law Enforcement — said it also will ask Congress to make assaulting a police officer in the performance of his duty a federal offense.

Fines Total $134,000 In Price-Fixing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A federal judge, fining nine individuals and 10 companies in a price-fixing case here, said he felt "it might be well if someone took another look at the federal laws which govern operation of business in this country."

District Judge Carl A. Weinman spoke for a half hour from the bench late Tuesday before imposing fines totaling $134,000. He warned that competition has grown and is growing greatly since formation of the European Common Market in 1957, adding:

"Maybe someone should represent business, which includes labor, in Washington. Maybe we've got to sit down and take another look at these laws if we want to compete in the world today."

Judge Weinman laid the responsibility for the price-fixing scheme on William W. Garstang, a former official of the Allen-Bradley Co. of Milwaukee, Wis. The case involved a multi - million dollar price-fixing scheme to sell electronic parts to the Dayton Air Force Depot.

"Only the fact that you pleaded guilty is keeping you out of jail," the judge told Garstang as he fined him $5,000 and levied another $12,000 fine against his company.

"You were dominant, using coercion and force in this conspiracy; you called the 14 meetings with other firms and used bullying and pressure tactics to secure the price you wanted," the judge told Garstang.

He added that the low prices were meant to "force smaller competition out of business." Garstang and the other firms and individuals arraigned had been indicted in January by a federal grand jury on 22 counts of violating the Sherman Anti-trust and Clayton Acts.

The judge, in suspending a $1,500 fine given another defendant, George Risk, president of the now-defunct Dale Products Co. of Columbus, Neb., said, "Risk is the Horatio Alger of his home town, a remarkable man who was forced into the price-fixing agreement to keep his company and employment in his community alive."

Both firms and individuals were given 10 days in which to pay their fines or face imprisonment.

Other companies and individuals and their fines included: Daystrom Inc., Murray Hill, N.J., $20,000; Electra Manufactring Co., Independence, Kan., $15,000; International Resistance Co., Philadelphia, $25,000; Aerovox Corp. New Bedford, Mass., $17,000; Stackpole Carbon Co., St. Marys, Pa., $10,000; Indiana General Corp., Valparaiso, Ind., $8,000.

Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas, $15,000; Clarostate Manufacturing Co., Dover, N.H., $5,000; Dale Products Inc., Columbus, Neb., $3,000; Wilbert Steinkemp, Daystrom Inc., $1,000; John Bouwmeester, Indiana General, $1,000; James M. Kramps, Aerovox Corp. $500; Charles Golenpaul, Arrobox Corp., $1,000; Richard Burton, Electra Manufacturing Co., $1,500 suspended; Leonard Maguire, Texas Instruments, $1,000; D.P. Geeding, Dale Products, $1,500 suspended.

Jamaica Elects Bustamante As Colony Premier

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—Sir Alexander Bustamante today won the premiership of this British colony's first independent government as election returns gave his Jamaica Labor Party a parliamentary majority.

Returns from 40 constituencies gave Bustamante's party 23 of the 45 seats and it was leading in 3 of the 5 undecided districts.

Bustamante's victory unseated his cousin, Prime Minister Norman Manley, whose People's National Party had been favored to win after seven years in office. The PNP had won only 17 seats and was leading in two races.

Bustamante, restored to power he had held for 10 years before Manley displaced him in 1955, will have the job of guilding Jamaica along the path of freedom. Britain winds up more than 300 years of rule Aug. 6 and grants the island independence.

Food Outlets Barred From Easter Pet Sale

City businessmen were cautioned today by the Board of Health that a regulation prohibits the sale of live rabbits and chicks in places where meals are sold or food is kept for sale.

The law applies especially to restaurants, drugstores and groceries although it affects any place where food is kept. The "food" classification includes such items as candy, the board warned.

The health board issues the warning annually in advance of the general sale of small rabbits and poultry as children's Easter pets.

Winter Crop Off

Some Headway Expected To Slash Wheat Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports the winter wheat crop is off to a sleepy start and farm work is lagging because of recent cool weather and soggy fields in many areas.

The department crop survey incates some headway will be made this year in reducing a big wheat surplus. It forecasts a winter wheat crop of 921 million bushels. Such a crop, along with a possible spring crop of 195 million bushels, would put total production about 150 million bushels below needs.

But reserve and surplus supplies of 1.39 billion bushels—much of it owned by Uncle Sam — assure more than ample supplies.

In reporting the delayed spring, the department said, however, the situation could be cured by a few days of good sunshine.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report says the states of New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, California and Michigan ranked in that order last year in the amount of taxes collected on cigarettes.

New York collected $129 million, Texas $92 million, Pennsylvania $66 million, California $65 million and Michigan $64 million. Total cigarette taxes collected by states last year was $986 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans spent a fourth of their food money for meat last year. The outlay for meat was $16 billion, or an average of $277 per family, the Agriculture Department reports.

As a nation, Americans spent more money on meat than on household utilities, radios and television sets combined. By comparison, in the early 1920s, the annual meat bill averaged $34 per person and bought 134 pounds. By 1961, the average meat bill was $90 and it bought an average of 161 pounds.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Easter not far off, the Agriculture Department is being asked what to do with colored easter eggs.

It says there should be no worry about eating dyed eggs because all Easter egg coloring must be approved by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

But once the Easter egg hunt is over, it is a good idea to whisk the eggs off to a refrigerator. Hard-cooked eggs, the department says, shouldn't be kept at room temperatures for more than a day. In the refrigerator, they will remain edible for a week or 10 days.

Ohio's Wheat Output 35 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Agriculture Department crop report shows indicated production in Ohio of 35,140,000 bushels of winter wheat.

Stocks of crops stored on Ohio farms, as of April 1, are estimated as follows (in bushels): old crop wheat 1,807,000, corn for grain 93,869,000, oats 12,898,000 and soybeans 13,018,000.

Ohio Doctor Elected

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dr. Herbert W. Salter of Cleveland has been elected vice president of the American Academy of General Practice. The medical group is holding its annual meeting here.

BLOOM AT THE TOP. Spring is the hair apparent with this graceful flow of white organdy petals set in net. The hat, from a London group, will surely vie with May flowers.

Great Lakes World Center Urged For Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Great Lakes World Center to bring together all the services and facilities needed by companies engaging in world trade has been proposed for the Erieview urban renewal area here.

R. W. Elmenthaler of Akron, exectuve vice president of the International Corp., set up to operate the trade center, said construction plans for the center are dependent on the outcome of a $12 million common stock issue to be offered in Ohio next month.

Elmenthaler said SCOPE International, Akron foreign marketing consuling firm which evolved the trade center plan and created the International Commerce Corp., would bid on the Erieview site. He said the group's first choice is a site north of Lakeside Avenue between East Ninth and Tenth and Tenth streets.

A six - story structure would house the trade center offices, computer equipment, international departments of tenant corporations and supporting services, Elmenthaler said. A second building would be for manufacturers' exhibits of products for world buyers, offices and a trade museum.

Elmenthaler said the center would provide information supplied by the computer on marketability of products, competitive factors, distribution channels and other services. He said operating funds for the center would be obtained by mortgaging the buildings.

Painesville's Parking Fund Goal Gets Boost

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Painesville merchants' campaign to raise $165,000 to finance free parking in off-street municipal parking lots has received its first contribution.

Officials at the Gail G. Grant Co., a department store, pledged $15,000 Tuesday to be paid over a five-year period. Campaign officials are hopeful the total goal can be reached.

Store owners contend the new metered parking spaces drive potential customers to outlying shopping centers. where parking is free.

The $165,000, to be raised over five years, would be used to pay the city's annual cost of about $33,000 in maintaining the lots, lighting and other commitments.

City officials have agreed to remove the parking meters if the income could be insured.

Endorsement Claimed As Write-In Aspirant

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Former Bellefontaine Mayor G. Louie Wren has announced that the seven Democratic county chairmen in the 13th-31st District have endorsed him as write - in candidate for nomination to the Ohio Senate.

Also seeking the nomination to contest for the seat held by J.E. Simpson, R - Hardin, before he died last month is John Birch. Birch lost to Simpson in the 1958 and 1960 elections.

War Figure Dies

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Gen. Manton Sprague Eddy, 69, one of the nation's top military leaders in World War II, died Tuesday. Eddy retired in 1953 after 36 years of active service with the U.S. Army. Eddy, who was born in Chicago, had been hospitalized since March 29 and has suffered a heart attack on April 7.

Lausche Wants New Approach To Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, wants a new approach to the nation's farm program. He says the direction of the proposed 1963 farm bill is toward eventual "abandonment of liberty, the submission and a complete regimentation of the people."

Speaking to an Ohio Farm Bureau Federation delegation Tuesday night, Lausche said the current (1962) farm program is taking $1 billion from the public pocketbook and putting it in the farmers' pockets. "We cannot suffer it interminably," he commented.

Lausche's proposed new approach would combine voluntary and compulsory provisions. He said the main objection to the administration's proposed 1963 farm measure, now before the Senate Agriculture Committee, is that "it presupposes compulsion."

"Does the farmer want to be harnessed?" he asked. "Does the farmer want to be shackled?"

Lausche told the Ohio group there is considerable doubt and distrust among members of the Senate Agriculture Committee over the proposed program.

The department crop survey incates some headway will be made this year in reducing a big wheat surplus. It forecasts a winter wheat crop of 921 million bushels. Such a crop, along with a possible spring crop of 195 million bushels, would put total production about 150 million bushels below needs.

But reserve and surplus supplies of 1.39 billion bushels—much of it owned by Uncle Sam — assure more than ample supplies.

In reporting the delayed spring, the department said, however, the situation could be cured by a few days of good sunshine.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report says the states of New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, California and Michigan ranked in that order last year in the amount of taxes collected on cigarettes.

New York collected $129 million, Texas $92 million, Pennsylvania $66 million, California $65 million and Michigan $64 million. Total cigarette taxes collected by states last year was $986 million.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans spent a fourth of their food money for meat last year. The outlay for meat was $16 billion, or an average of $277 per family, the Agriculture Department reports.

As a nation, Americans spent more money on meat than on household utilities, radios and television sets combined. By comparison, in the early 1920s, the annual meat bill averaged $34 per person and bought 134 pounds. By 1961, the average meat bill was $90 and it bought an average of 161 pounds.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Easter not far off, the Agriculture Department is being asked what to do with colored easter eggs.

It says there should be no worry about eating dyed eggs because all Easter egg coloring must be approved by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration.

But once the Easter egg hunt is over, it is a good idea to whisk the eggs off to a refrigerator. Hard-cooked eggs, the department says, shouldn't be kept at room temperatures for more than a day. In the refrigerator, they will remain edible for a week or 10 days.

Ohio's Wheat Output 35 Million Bushels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new Agriculture Department crop report shows indicated production in Ohio of 35,140,000 bushels of winter wheat.

Stocks of crops stored on Ohio farms, as of April 1, are estimated as follows (in bushels): old crop wheat 1,807,000, corn for grain 93,869,000, oats 12,898,000 and soybeans 13,018,000.

Great Lakes World Center Urged For Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Great Lakes World Center to bring together all the services and facilities needed by companies engaging in world trade has been proposed for the Erieview urban renewal area here.

R. W. Elmenthaler of Akron, exectuve vice president of the International Corp., set up to operate the trade center, said construction plans for the center are dependent on the outcome of a $12 million common stock issue to be offered in Ohio next month.

Elmenthaler said SCOPE International, Akron foreign marketing consuling firm which evolved the trade center plan and created the International Commerce Corp., would bid on the Erieview site. He said the group's first choice is a site north of Lakeside Avenue between East Ninth and Tenth and Tenth streets.

A six - story structure would house the trade center offices, computer equipment, international departments of tenant corporations and supporting services, Elmenthaler said. A second building would be for manufacturers' exhibits of products for world buyers, offices and a trade museum.

Elmenthaler said the center would provide information supplied by the computer on marketability of products, competitive factors, distribution channels and other services. He said operating funds for the center would be obtained by mortgaging the buildings.

Painesville's Parking Fund Goal Gets Boost

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Painesville merchants' campaign to raise $165,000 to finance free parking in off-street municipal parking lots has received its first contribution.

Officials at the Gail G. Grant Co., a department store, pledged $15,000 Tuesday to be paid over a five-year period. Campaign officials are hopeful the total goal can be reached.

Store owners contend the new metered parking spaces drive potential customers to outlying shopping centers. where parking is free.

The $165,000, to be raised over five years, would be used to pay the city's annual cost of about $33,000 in maintaining the lots, lighting and other commitments.

City officials have agreed to remove the parking meters if the income could be insured.

Lausche Wants New Approach To Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, wants a new approach to the nation's farm program. He says the direction of the proposed 1963 farm bill is toward eventual "abandonment of liberty, the submission and a complete regimentation of the people."

Speaking to an Ohio Farm Bureau Federation delegation Tuesday night, Lausche said the current (1962) farm program is taking $1 billion from the public pocketbook and putting it in the farmers' pockets. "We cannot suffer it interminably," he commented.

Lausche's proposed new approach would combine voluntary and compulsory provisions. He said the main objection to the administration's proposed 1963 farm measure, now before the Senate Agriculture Committee, is that "it presupposes compulsion."

"Does the farmer want to be harnessed?" he asked. "Does the farmer want to be shackled?"

Lausche told the Ohio group there is considerable doubt and distrust among members of the Senate Agriculture Committee over the proposed program.

PONTIUS PILATE

"Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him." —John XIX:4

Pontius Pilate, who became procurator of Judea under Tiberius Caesar in A.D. 26, was a product of Roman society during the early Empire.

He was military in bearing, tactless, skeptical, arbitrary. Almost from the first day of his arrival in Judea, there existed an implacable hatred between him and the people he ruled.

He regarded the Jews with haughty contempt. From his point of view, they were a superstitious, refractory rabble, wrangling among themselves over religious usages for which he felt only a profound scorn.

Twice before the trial of Jesus, he had been forced to yield to the will of the populace, or risk open rebellion that might cost him his position.

The first time occurred when he brought army standards bearing the likeness of the Roman emperor into Jerusalem, thus profaning the holy city. After five days of uproar and rioting, he removed them.

On another occasion, the Jews forced him to remove a set of Roman votive tablets from Herod's palace, which he occupied in Jerusalem. The people appealed that time directly to Tiberius, who ordered them taken back to Caesarea.

Pilate knew that Jesus was innocent. He had secret spies among the people who had reported almost daily on the Nazarene's activities.

Moreover, there is good reason to believe that Pilate's wife, Claudia Procula, had actually met Jesus, and was one of His secret followers.

During the trial, she sent Pilate a message, warning him to "have nothing to do with that just man."

But, "when Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this man . . ."

In the most critical decision of his career, the "fearless" Roman had again bowed to the shouting, factious, bloodthirsty mob.

Tradition says he never forgot this tragic hour. A few years afterward, in exile, "wearied with misfortunes," he killed himself.

Citizens' Group Airs Ramp Traffic Check

The Sunnyside Citizens' Committee, at a special meeting Tuesday night, discussed the 24-hour traffic count that will begin Thursday at 7 a. m. on the ramp connecting Lisbon and W. 9th Sts.

The committee met at the home of Charles Dyer, 1017 Florence St. Harold Simms presided in the absence of James H. Grafton, chairman.

The group pointed out that the number of vehicles and pedestrians tabulated on the ramp in the period ending at 7 a. m. Friday will be a large factor in guiding the State Highway Department in determining whether to construct an overpass or an underpass to link the two deadend sections of W. 9th St.

City employes will make the check. The Sunnyside residents have requested a connection between the two deadend sections of W. 9th to improve access to the residential area.

Ford Calls Off Project To Build Small-Small Car

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

This would make it available for import if the market changes.

Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with full production slated for early July at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

Development of the Cardinal began five years ago and was accelerated in 1959 when sales of small foreign cars reached their peak in this country of some 610,000 units. Imports have skidded sharply since then, totaling less than 375,000 in 1961.

The last-minute decision to call things off was in marked contrast to Ford's handling of the ill-fated Edsel.

This would make it available for import if the market changes. The Edsel, like the Cardinal, was conceived during a period of booming sales for its type of car. By late 1957, when the Edsel was ready, the market was shrinking fast.

Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

Ford officials later admitted they knew within the first month the Edsel was a failure. They stuck it out, however, until November 1959, building slightly more than 100,000 altogether.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with

Ford lost some $250 million on the Edsel.

Angered Over News Article

Distraugth Father Says Reds Trapped Daughter

CHICAGO (AP) — A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted his daughter, Regina Leonas, 22, as saying the United States was a money-mad society and that she wanted to stay in her native Lithuania and never return to America.

"Our daughter is an actual prisoner," Leonas said. "She would never have made those statements, because they are contrary to her convictions. She was forced by threats of violence.

"Regina would be ashamed if she saw what has been printed about her."

Regina and her brother were separated from their parents for 16 years during and after World War II. Regina returned to Vilnius, capital of Lithuania, last month to marry Stasys Bikulcius, a young music teacher whom she met in high school.

"I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had love for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker, said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1959.

From 1944 to 1955, they did not know whether Regina and Tomas were alive.

Mrs. Leonas in 1955 wrote a friend and found that the children were alive. Efforts were initiated to bring them to the United States.

They got a promise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his 1959 tour in the United States that Regina and Tomas would be released. They arrived in Chicago in 1960—after 16 years of separation from their parents.

Weirton Steel Shuts Furnace For Repairs

WEIRTON — After more than eight years of continuous operation, the No. 1 blast furnace at the Weirton Steel Co. has been blown out in preparation for relining.

During the relining project, which is expected to be completed in about 90 days, a new carbon wall will be installed up to the mantle of the furnace, and the hearth of the unit will be increased from 25½ feet to 27 feet.

The furnace operated continuously since Dec. 18, 1953, the day it was relighted after its last relining.

Originally built in 1919, the unit is 91½ feet high and has a capacity of 1,775 tons of pig iron per day. It produced 4,055,857 tons a state in the Soviet Union during the eight years of continuous operation.

Ford Calls Off Project To Build Small-Small Car

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

This would make it available for import if the market changes.

Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with full production slated for early July at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

Development of the Cardinal began five years ago and was accelerated in 1959 when sales of small foreign cars reached their peak in this country of some 610,000 units. Imports have skidded sharply since then, totaling less than 375,000 in 1961.

The last-minute decision to call things off was in marked contrast to Ford's handling of the ill-fated Edsel.

The Edsel, like the Cardinal, was conceived during a period of booming sales for its type of car. By late 1957, when the Edsel was ready, the market was shrinking fast.

Ford officials later admitted they knew within the first month the Edsel was a failure. They stuck it out, however, until November 1959, building slightly more than 100,000 altogether.

Ford lost some $250 million on the Edsel.

Angered Over News Article

Distraugth Father Says Reds Trapped Daughter

CHICAGO (AP) — A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted his daughter, Regina Leonas, 22, as saying the United States was a money-mad society and that she wanted to stay in her native Lithuania and never return to America.

"Our daughter is an actual prisoner," Leonas said. "She would never have made those statements, because they are contrary to her convictions. She was forced by threats of violence.

"Regina would be ashamed if she saw what has been printed about her."

Regina and her brother were separated from their parents for 16 years during and after World War II. Regina returned to Vilnius, capital of Lithuania, last month to marry Stasys Bikulcius, a young music teacher whom she met in high school.

"I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had love for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker, said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1959.

From 1944 to 1955, they did not know whether Regina and Tomas were alive.

Mrs. Leonas in 1955 wrote a friend and found that the children were alive. Efforts were initiated to bring them to the United States.

They got a promise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his 1959 tour in the United States that Regina and Tomas would be released. They arrived in Chicago in 1960—after 16 years of separation from their parents.

Weirton Steel Shuts Furnace For Repairs

WEIRTON — After more than eight years of continuous operation, the No. 1 blast furnace at the Weirton Steel Co. has been blown out in preparation for relining.

During the relining project, which is expected to be completed in about 90 days, a new carbon wall will be installed up to the mantle of the furnace, and the hearth of the unit will be increased from 25½ feet to 27 feet.

The furnace operated continuously since Dec. 18, 1953, the day it was relighted after its last relining.

Originally built in 1919, the unit is 9½ feet high and has a capacity of 1,775 tons of pig iron per day. It produced 4,055,657 tons during the eight years of continuous operation.

Cincy Must Like Home Of Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds took kindly to the Los Angeles' Dodgers new stadium in Chavez Ravine right off Tuesday.

The very first batter, Eddie Kasko, drilled a double to the left field corner and eventually scored the first run of the Reds' 6-3 victory.

The very first home run struck in the ball park was a three-run blast by Wally Post in the seventh inning that won the game.

A throng of 52,564 was on hand for a game that proved gratifying for the Reds in several ways.

Just a few days ago, there was some concern over Post's poor hitting during spring training. But Wally produced two singles before smashing his homer over the centerfield fence at the 410-foot sign.

Jim O'Toole couldn't pitch because of a sore finger, so Manager Fred Hutchinson went with righthander Bob Purkey. And Purkey came through in fine style, with the familiar late-inning help from relief specialists Billy Henry and Jim Brosnan.

Rookie third baseman Tommy Harper collected three singles in four times at bat to lift his average for two games to .500.

And Vada Pinson had a perfect day at the plate with two doubles, two singles and a walk. Pinson knocked in Kasko with the first run, scored in the sixth, was aboard on Post's decisive wallop and tallied an insurance marker in the ninth.

Cincinnati, now even - stephen after losing to Philadelphia Monday and winning with a 14-hit attack Tuesday, tries to gain the plus side of the ledger tonight.

The Reds pitcher will be Moe Drabowski. The Dodgers will go with the league strikeout king, Sandy Koufax (18-13 last year).

Jumping out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning, the Rams scored three more in the third and four in the fifth. Dave Trimble picked up the victory for his 4 2-3 innings performance.

Gary Berhar, Beaver Local's starting hurler, was charged with the setback.

Tom Lombard paced South Side to its second victory with a pair of singles and a double.

Friend Blanks Phillies; Ex-Bucs Shine For Colts

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shrewd talent appraiser Paul Richards, responsible for sticking his thumb into the National League draft bag for Houston's new entry, apparently pulled out two plums—pitcher Bobby Shantz and outfielder Roman Mejias.

Plucked by General Manager Paul Richards from the Pittsburgh roster at last year's special draft to stock the new NL clubs, the two castoffs reigned as Houston's first heroes after leading the Colts to an 11-2 victory over Chicago in their debut Tuesday.

Shantz, 36, pitched a strong game against the Cubs, checking the Chicagoans on five hits and keeping them away from the plate until he tired in the late innings. Meanwhile, the Colts were building a 5-0 edge.

Mejias, 29, a utility man, who hit his last home run Sept. 13, 1959, connected twice for the Colts, blasting a three-run shot off Don Cardwell in the third and smacking another, with two on, off reliever Al Lary in the eighth.

While the Colts were winning their debut, the New York Mets were rained out in their scheduled opener at St. Louis in a night game. They'll try to get under way tonight, sending Roger Craig against the Cards' Larry Jackson.

Elsewhere Tuesday, San Francisco opened with a 6-0 triumph over Milwaukee behind Juan Marichal's three-hit pitching, Cincinnati ruined Los Angeles' home opener before 52,564 fans with a 6-3 victory, and Pittsburgh's Bob Friend shut out Philadelphia 6-0 on five hits.

Shantz, American League Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he posted a 24-7 record for the then Philadelphia Athletics, was virtually untouchable until the 299th homer of Ernie Banks' career, Jim McKnight's triple, and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock gave the Cubs single runs in the seventh and eighth innings. Hal Smith backed Mejias' efforts with another homer for the Colts.

Marichal, 24, a right-hander, gave up a single to rookie Howie Bedell in the third, then held the Braves hitless until Tommy Aaron and Frank Bolling singled in the ninth. He struck out 10 and contributed to the Giants' attack against Warren Spahn with two RBI on a double and single. Spahn, opening his bid for a 13th 20-victory season, left after 3 2-3 innings.

With two out in the seventh, the score tied 2-2 and one on, the Dodgers elected to walk Frank Robinson to pitch to Wally Post. Post tagged the first pitch from Johnny Podres for a homer to win it for the Reds. Bob Purkey picked up the victory for Cincinnati.

Roberto Clemente hit a Jim Owens pitch for a grand slam homer in the third inning, and Don Hoak followed with a solo shot, that put it away for the Pirates. Friend struck out five and walked only one, with Tony Taylor's double in the fifth the lone extra base hit for the Phillies.

Hunsaker Family Optimistic For Boxer's Recovery

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP) — Boxer Tunney Hunsaker's family was optimistic Tuesday night after the injured fighter had been off the critical list for 18 hours.

"I feel sure he'll make it now," said his wife, Phyllis.

His parents were hopeful, but worried because Hunsaker has not spoken except for a soft "hi" to his wife as he left the operating room after the second of two brain operations.

Dr. E. L. Gage said the 32-year-old fighter still is in serious condition.

Hunsaker was knocked out in the 10th round of his fight with Joe Shelton of Cleveland last Friday night at Beckley.

Quarter Million Watch 8 Major League Openers

By The Associated Press

Almost a quarter of a million fans turned out Tuesday as major league baseball got its 1962 campaign rolling into high gear with eight second-day "openers" drawing 222,675 through the turnstiles.

The largest crowd was on hand at Los Angeles, where 52,564 saw the Dodgers open in their new ball park. The biggest American League turnout was 22,978 at New York for the Yankees' curtain-raiser. The NL drew 145,825 to 76,850 for the AL.

The season officially began Monday when 44,383 witnessed the presidential opener at Washington and 28,506 were at Cincinnati for the traditional NL opener.

Last year, for nine openers, the attendance was 154,390 in the NL and 130,604 in the AL for a total of 284,994. That included 26,725 for the presidential opener the day before the other teams got under way.

West Stars As Lakers Take Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There are signs that the Boston Celtics' mastery of the National Basketball Association is ending and that the fourth straight championship they seek may elude them.

The up-and-coming Los Angeles Lakers took a 2-1 lead in the best 4-of-7 NBA championship playoff series Tuesday night on a daring steal of a Boston pass with three seconds to go. It gave Los Angeles a 117-115 victory in the Sports Arena.

Jerry West, sensational Laker guard, snatched an in-bounds pass thrown by Sam Jones and intended for Bob Cousy. Anticipating the throw, West flashed in front of Cousy just as the ball was about to reach its target. In one sweeping motion, West started a dribble that he continued the 45 feet to the basket, where he sank a lay-up just as the gun sounded.

Just before this sensational play, West had been fouled by Boston's Bill Russell, and his two clutch free throws tied the score at 115-115, with the clock stopped.

Twin City Skippers Fail In ABC Effort

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Twin City Skippers, who lead the National Bowling League by seven games, will not make the top 10 in the classic division of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

The skippers, who represent St. Paul and Minneapolis, came up with a big 3077 series Tuesday night but it was too late. They opened with a 2880 series Monday night, which deflated their six game total of 5957.

Don Carter Gloves of St. Louis, leads the classic division team standings with 6248.

Bob Strampe paced the Skippers Tuesday night with a big 224-204-265—693 series.

Hal Smith backed Mejias' efforts with another homer for the Colts.

Marichal, 24, a right-hander, gave up a single to rookie Howie Bedell in the third, then held the Braves hitless until Tommy Aaron and Frank Bolling singled in the ninth. He struck out 10 and contributed to the Giants' attack against Warren Spahn with two RBI on a double and single. Spahn, opening his bid for a 13th 20-victory season, left after 3 2-3 innings.

With two out in the seventh, the score tied 2-2 and one on, the Dodgers elected to walk Frank Robinson to pitch to Wally Post. Post tagged the first pitch from Johnny Podres for a homer to win it for the Reds. Bob Purkey picked up the victory for Cincinnati.

Roberto Clemente hit a Jim Owens pitch for a grand slam homer in the third inning, and Don Hoak followed with a solo shot, that put it away for the Pirates. Friend struck out five and walked only one, with Tony Taylor's double in the fifth the lone extra base hit for the Phillies.

'Red' Manning To Speak At Midland Cage Dinner

John "Red" Manning, head basketball coach at Duquesne University and a teammate of Midland's Hank Kuzma at the Pittsburgh school, will be guest speaker Sunday when the 1961-62 Leopard cage squad is honored with an "Appreciation Night" sponsored by the Midland Boosters Club at the CIO Hall.

Appearing with Manning will be three of the outstanding basketball stars in the Pittsburgh area this past season. They are "Wee Willie" Somerset, the nimble back court man for Duquesne; Brian Generalovich, who was proclaimed as one of the most outstanding sophomores ever to perform at Pitt, and Ron Galbreath, a Little All-American selection who led Westminster College to the No. 1 small college rating in the nation this past season.

Jim Migliore, president of the Boosters Club, announced that the dinner will begin at 6:30 and tickets at $3 each are on sale at Migliore's Ford Agency, Flasco's Cleaners and the principal's office in the high school.

Manning, who is 33, learned his basketball under Dudey Moore, the man he succeeded as Duquesne's cage mentor. Manning assisted Moore for five seasons.

This last season the Dukes finished their regular season with a 20-5 mark and swept to victories over Navy and Bradley in the NIT tournament before bowing to St. John's in the tournament semi-finals.

In four seasons as head coach, Manning's teams have won 58 and lost 40.

Allen Smacks Triple, Has 1 RBI In Debut

The boxscore on Bernie Allen, the East Liverpool bonus baby who made his debut in the major leagues Tuesday, showed four official times at bat, no runs scored and one hit.

The hit was a triple to left centerfield in the sixth inning which drove home Earle Battey with the Twins second run of the game. Minnesota lost its opener at Kansas City, 4-2, Tuesday before 21,012 fans.

The winning blow for Kansas City was struck by ex-Pirate Gino Cimoli who clubbed a three-run homer in the fourth inning as the A's came up with four runs to take a 4-1 lead.

Allen, playing second base and batting sixth, played his first major league game without an error.

The Twins play at Kansas City tonight.

Hunsaker Family Optimistic For Boxer's Recovery

BLUEFIELD, W.Va. (AP) — Boxer Tunney Hunsaker's family was optimistic Tuesday night after the injured fighter had been off the critical list for 18 hours.

"I feel sure he'll make it now," said his wife, Phyllis.

His parents were hopeful, but worried because Hunsaker has not spoken except for a soft "hi" to his wife as he left the operating room after the second of two brain operations.

Dr. E. L. Gage said the 32-year-old fighter still is in serious condition.

Hunsaker was knocked out in the 10th round of his fight with Joe Shelton of Cleveland last Friday night at Beckley.

Quarter Million Watch 8 Major League Openers

By The Associated Press

Almost a quarter of a million fans turned out Tuesday as major league baseball got its 1962 campaign rolling into high gear with eight second-day "openers" drawing 222,675 through the turnstiles.

The largest crowd was on hand at Los Angeles, where 52,564 saw the Dodgers open in their new ball park. The biggest American League turnout was 22,978 at New York for the Yankees' curtain-raiser. The NL drew 145,825 to 76,850 for the AL.

The season officially began Monday when 44,383 witnessed the presidential opener at Washington and 28,506 were at Cincinnati for the traditional NL opener.

Last year, for nine openers, the attendance was 154,390 in the NL and 130,604 in the AL for a total of 284,994. That included 26,725 for the presidential opener the day before the other teams got under way.

West Stars As Lakers Take Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There are signs that the Boston Celtics' mastery of the National Basketball Association is ending and that the fourth straight championship they seek may elude them.

The up-and-coming Los Angeles Lakers took a 2-1 lead in the best 4-of-7 NBA championship playoff series Tuesday night on a daring steal of a Boston pass with three seconds to go. It gave Los Angeles a 117-115 victory in the Sports Arena.

Jerry West, sensational Laker guard, snatched an in-bounds pass thrown by Sam Jones and intended for Bob Cousy. Anticipating the throw, West flashed in front of Cousy just as the ball was about to reach its target. In one sweeping motion, West started a dribble that he continued the 45 feet to the basket, where he sank a lay-up just as the gun sounded.

Just before this sensational play, West had been fouled by Boston's Bill Russell, and his two clutch free throws tied the score at 115-115, with the clock stopped.

Twin City Skippers Fail In ABC Effort

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Twin City Skippers, who lead the National Bowling League by seven games, will not make the top 10 in the classic division of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

The skippers, who represent St. Paul and Minneapolis, came up with a big 3077 series Tuesday night but it was too late. They opened with a 2880 series Monday night, which deflated their six game total of 5957.

Don Carter Gloves of St. Louis, leads the classic division team standings with 6248.

Bob Strampe paced the Skippers Tuesday night with a big 224-204-265—693 series.

Maris Very Calm In Opening Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris said he wasn't nervous. He expected to be, but he wasn't.

"This was the first time in my six years in the major leagues that I wasn't nervous on opening day," said the man who knows the spotlight will be on him all season because of his record-breaking 61 home runs last year.

"I don't know why I was so calm," Maris said. "maybe it's because I decided not to let anything worry me this year. I made up my mind to forget all about last year and let this year take care of itself."

Maris gave every indication he felt right at home. In fact, he began where he left off last year, hammering a three-run homer in the fifth inning to help the Yanks defeat the Baltimore Orioles 7-6 in the champs' season opener Tuesday.

When Maris belted home run No. 1, a press box wag sang out, "That puts Roger 10 games ahead of Maris' record of 61." Roger did not hit his first home run last year until his team's 11th game.

Maris' thoughts following that right field blast off southpaw Billy Hoeft were a little bit different.

"I said to myself, 'I'm glad that's over with,' Maris said later. "I had wondered how long I would have to wait for the first homer. After last year, you never know. It felt real good to get it.

"Now, please don't go writing that I'm going out for another home run record. The truth is I'm not even thinking about any records. I'm just going to keep swinging. If the home runs fall in, there's nothing I can do about it. If I hit 'em right and get enough lift, I'll get my share of home runs. But you've got to have the breaks."

The Moose may be ready to add another M to the New York Yankees' M & M power trademark.

The Moose is Bill Skowron, burly first baseman for the Yankees who played the key role Tuesday as the world champions began their campaign for a third consecutive American League pennant with a 7-6 opening day triumph over Baltimore.

Skowron opened the Yankees' scoring with a two-run inside-the-park homer in the fourth, watched Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle keep New York close with homers, then stroked a single that snapped a 6-6 tie in the eighth to wrap it up.

Plagued with back trouble throughout an eight-year career, Skowron spent the winter strengthening the ailing muscles with a specially designed series of exercises. He hit 28 homers last season and could join Maris and Mantle in a triumvirate of terror if he could avoid the doctor.

Maris, meanwhile, tagged home run No. 1, a three-run shot in the fifth off Billy Hoeft.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan got Cleveland off winging with a five-hitter that blanked Boston 4-0; Chicago edged Los Angeles 2-1, and Kansas City defeated Minnesota 4-2. Detroit and Washington were not scheduled.

Skowron's game-winner came off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm and it drove in Elston Howard, who had doubled after Mantle's homer. Ralph Terry picked up the victory, taking the mound when 25-game winner Whitey Ford left after giving up eight hits and four runs in six innings. Relief specialist Luis Arroyo hurled the final inning for the Yanks.

Donovan, 34, acquired by the Indians, in the trade that sent Jimmy Piersall to Washington, made Mel McGaha's managerial debut a success with his standout performance. While Donovan was throwing blanks, Woody Held drove in two runs, and John Romano and Chuck Essegian scored twice each to hand Red Sox starter Don Schwall the loss.

Tri-State Lanes To Open Friday

Sixteen new alleys will be available to area bowlers when the new Tri-State Lanes opens its doors Friday night at 6:30.

Lawrence Black, (right) owner of the new alleys located on Route 170 in Calcutta, points to the proper spot on the alley as Clarence "Butch" Wucherer, manager of the new plant, rolls the first ball down the No. 1 lane.

While the alleys will be open for bowling Friday, a grand opening is being planned by the management at a later date. The Tri-State Lanes will be open at noon on Saturday and also for Sunday bowling.

The plant is equipped with eight telescorers which project the score on a screen directly above the bowling area, automatic pin setters and subterranean ball returns.

Wucherer said several leagues already have been formed.

In addition to the alleys, a snack bar and nursery will be available to bowlers. Fees will be 50 cents a line.

Tribe's Donovan Shuts Out Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Donovan, the righthander Cleveland got in the trade for Jim Piersall, showed in the Indians' opener why he had the American League's lowest earned run average with Washington last year.

Donovan gave up just five singles and allowed one runner to reach second base in the Tribe's 4-0 victory over the Red Sox Tuesday. He struck out two men and walked only one.

It was a great day, too, for Cleveland Manager Mel McGaha, who made his major league debut. One of his first post game comments showed him to be a man who makes a strong argument.

"If you don't give up any runs you've got a chance to win," said McGaha. "Donovan was great. He moved the ball in and out and his control was just about perfect."

Chuck Essegian, John Romano and Woodie Held supported Donovan at the plate. Essegian reached base five times—on a double, a single, two walks and being hit by a pitch. Romano bagged a triple and two singles, and Held drove in two runs with two singles.

Maris Very Calm In Opening Game

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris said he wasn't nervous. He expected to be, but he wasn't.

"I don't know why I was so calm," Maris said. "maybe it's because I decided not to let anything worry me this year. I made up my mind to forget all about last year and let this year take care of itself."

Maris gave every indication he felt right at home. In fact, he began where he left off last year, hammering a three-run homer in the fifth inning to help the Yanks defeat the Baltimore Orioles 7-6 in the champs' season opener Tuesday.

When Maris belted home run No. 1, a press box wag sang out, "That puts Roger 10 games ahead of Maris' record of 61." Roger did not hit his first home run last year until his team's 11th game.

Maris' thoughts following that right field blast off southpaw Billy Hoeft were a little bit different.

"I said to myself, 'I'm glad that's over with,' Maris said later. "I had wondered how long I would have to wait for the first homer. After last year, you never know. It felt real good to get it.

"Now, please don't go writing that I'm going out for another home run record. The truth is I'm not even thinking about any records. I'm just going to keep swinging. If the home runs fall in, there's nothing I can do about it. If I hit 'em right and get enough lift, I'll get my share of home runs. But you've got to have the breaks."

Tri-State Lanes To Open Friday

Sixteen new alleys will be available to area bowlers when the new Tri-State Lanes opens its doors Friday night at 6:30.

Lawrence Black, (right) owner of the new alleys located on Route 170 in Calcutta, points to the proper spot on the alley as Clarence "Butch" Wucherer, manager of the new plant, rolls the first ball down the No. 1 lane.

While the alleys will be open for bowling Friday, a grand opening is being planned by the management at a later date. The Tri-State Lanes will be open at noon on Saturday and also for Sunday bowling.

The plant is equipped with eight telescorers which project the score on a screen directly above the bowling area, automatic pin setters and subterranean ball returns.

Wucherer said several leagues already have been formed.

In addition to the alleys, a snack bar and nursery will be available to bowlers. Fees will be 50 cents a line.

Tribe's Donovan Shuts Out Boston

BOSTON (AP)—Dick Donovan, the righthander Cleveland got in the trade for Jim Piersall, showed in the Indians' opener why he had the American League's lowest earned run average with Washington last year.

Donovan gave up just five singles and allowed one runner to reach second base in the Tribe's 4-0 victory over the Red Sox Tuesday. He struck out two men and walked only one.

It was a great day, too, for Cleveland Manager Mel McGaha, who made his major league debut. One of his first post game comments showed him to be a man who makes a strong argument.

"If you don't give up any runs you've got a chance to win," said McGaha. "Donovan was great. He moved the ball in and out and his control was just about perfect."

Chuck Essegian, John Romano and Woodie Held supported Donovan at the plate. Essegian reached base five times—on a double, a single, two walks and being hit by a pitch. Romano bagged a triple and two singles, and Held drove in two runs with two singles.

Rookie Ron Taylor was picked to hurl for the Indians today

Leafs Down Hawks, Take Playoff Lead

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs are brimming with supreme confidence in their Stanley Cup series against the Chicago Black Hawks after a surprisingly easy 4-1 opening victory over the defending champions Tuesday night.

"I don't know why," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach after the game, "and this may sound surprising, but I wasn't as worried about this game as I was against the New York Rangers."

Toronto reached the finals by whipping the Rangers in six games while the Hawks marched through with a six-game victory over Montreal and did it by winning the last four in a row.

The Maple Leafs, holding a one-game lead, have a good chance of making it two straight on their home ice Thursday night before going to Chicago for games Sunday and Tuesday.

"One game doesn't make a series," said Coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago. "We'll be back." Except for holding a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period on a goal by Bobby Hull the Hawks never looked like the team which swept past Montreal.

Toronto tied it at 1:32 of the second period on a goal by Dave Keon and went ahead for good at 13:54 of the same period on a score by Frank Mahovlich. Goals by George Armstrong and Tim Horton in the final period clinched the game.

Wellsville Thinclads Drops First At Salem

Showing strength in the dash events but little in the field, Wellsville High's track squad bowed to Salem, 76-42, in the opening meet Tuesday at Salem.

Coach Ken Woods' thinclads piled up victories in five separate events in races, but lost out in the field events and distance runs.

Sophomore Jim Reed led the Tigers with victories in the 100-yard dash and 200-yard run and anchored Wellsville's winning 880-yard relay team. Reed churned to victory in the "century" in a quick time of 10.5 seconds.

Senior John Euill of Wellsville won the low hurdles, was second in the high hurdles, third in the 220, and ran a leg of the 880-yard relay.

Potter Nine Opens Season With 8-4 Win At Midland

Righthanders Eddie Six and Roger Linville teamed up to allow Midland only two hits as the East Liverpool Potters, playing their first game under their new coach Jack Bair, gained an 8-4 decision at Midland Tuesday afternoon in a game called because of darkness after six innings.

Six pitched four innings of shutout baseball, allowing the Leopards only one hit. All four runs scored by Midland were charged to Linville who only gave up a lone hit.

The Potters broke on top, 3-0, in the first inning and then added two runs in each of the third and fifth frames. ELHS concluded the scoring with a single marker in the fifth inning.

In their first outing, the Potters pounded out eight hits with and centerfielder Butch Mathias collecting two each. One hit by Mathias went for a double. Vince McKinnon and Six also came up with doubles and McKinnon had three RBI's to his credit.

Midland broke up the shutout with three runs in the fifth inning, coming on two walks, an error, a hit batsman and a base hit. The Leopards' fourth run came in the sixth.

East Liverpool returns to action Thursday when Weirton invades Patterson Field for a 4:15 game.

Leafs Down Hawks, Take Playoff Lead

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs are brimming with supreme confidence in their Stanley Cup series against the Chicago Black Hawks after a surprisingly easy 4-1 opening victory over the defending champions Tuesday night.

"I don't know why," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach after the game, "and this may sound surprising, but I wasn't as worried about this game as I was against the New York Rangers."

Toronto reached the finals by whipping the Rangers in six games while the Hawks marched through with a six-game victory over Montreal and did it by winning the last four in a row.

The Maple Leafs, holding a one-game lead, have a good chance of making it two straight on their home ice Thursday night before going to Chicago for games Sunday and Tuesday.

"One game doesn't make a series," said Coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago. "We'll be back." Except for holding a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period on a goal by Bobby Hull the Hawks never looked like the team which swept past Montreal.

Toronto tied it at 1:32 of the second period on a goal by Dave Keon and went ahead for good at 13:54 of the same period on a score by Frank Mahovlich. Goals by George Armstrong and Tim Horton in the final period clinched the game.

Potter Nine Opens Season With 8-4 Win At Midland

Righthanders Eddie Six and Roger Linville teamed up to allow Midland only two hits as the East Liverpool Potters, playing their first game under their new coach Jack Bair, gained an 8-4 decision at Midland Tuesday afternoon in a game called because of darkness after six innings.

Six pitched four innings of shutout baseball, allowing the Leopards only one hit. All four runs scored by Midland were charged to Linville who only gave up a lone hit.

The Potters broke on top, 3-0, in the first inning and then added two runs in each of the third and fifth frames. ELHS concluded the scoring with a single marker in the fifth inning.

In their first outing, the Potters pounded out eight hits with and centerfielder Butch Mathias collecting two each. One hit by Mathias went for a double. Vince McKinnon and Six also came up with doubles and McKinnon had three RBI's to his credit.

Midland broke up the shutout with three runs in the fifth inning, coming on two walks, an error, a hit batsman and a base hit. The Leopards' fourth run came in the sixth.

East Liverpool returns to action Thursday when Weirton invades Patterson Field for a 4:15 game.

The annual creel census, during which game protectors check fishermen, record the hours fished, fish caught, size and length, the species taken, etc., began last Saturday.

The census provides a record over a period of years regarding the trends in fishing and provides a record of fish growth.

Lake Guilford is one of the oldest lakes in Ohio where and annual creel census has been made for the last 30 years.

Test netting has been going on for a long time and the fish management section has the records to study. And with all biological facts at hand it is able to plan a program of fish management according to years of research.

IT WAS interesting to hear the comments of fishermen I contacted last Saturday.

One man said, "You should have been here yesterday when fishermen were catching 10-and 12-inch crappies." This could be, but I have to see it. Crappies that size have not been taken in Guilford in abundance for the last six years.

Now it could be that the crappies are getting bigger. At least crappies are beginning to bite at Guilford, but Saturday was a poor fishing day with the barometer falling.

Bullhead catfish are biting at Guilford. One fisherman had eight that averaged 10 inches. He had fished for two hours. That means he averaged four fish per hour. The water temperature was 48 degrees and that means all fish should be getting active. The suckers should be moving in the streams any day now.

CRAPPIE fishing at Westville Lake is good and bass are also being taken. This lake is noted for the good spring bass fishing. At one time, it was closed to bass fishing until July 1. In other words fishermen couldn't take bass when bass were biting. When the bass season opened a fisherman was lucky to get a 12-inch bass and it was believed there were no large bass in the lake.

Don't take my word for it, but ask the lake manager about Westville Lake bass. Many have been taken in the 5 up to 7-pound class in the early spring. Red Craven, the manager, was the first to open the season on all fish all year 'round.

Spring bass fishing has not hurt the bass population one bit and Westville Lake is one of the outstanding examples of good fishing on the liberalized basis. Each year I see lunker bass on the spawning beds in the bay within 100 feet of my home. I live right on the lake.

Cheap Home Runs Thing Of Past For Dodger Fans

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—People who try to spot trends in baseball after watching a single game have done about as much as any group to create a genuine need for psychiatry in America.

But a single game at Dodger Stadium should make one conclusion eminently safe: In a city that has grown accustomed to cheap home runs, the price has gone up—way up.

Four or five drives that would have been home runs at the old Dodger playground in the Coliseum were either caught or run down Tuesday in the grand opener at 56,000-seat Dodger Stadium.

And the one homer that was hit—by Wally Post of the Cincinnati Reds—was one of those unmistakable shots that would have gone over the wall if it had been hit in the Grand Canyon.

It was Post's home run, incidentally, that won the game for the Reds 6-3.

The score was tied 2-2 with two out in the top of the seventh when Wally knocked Johnny Podres' first pitch 420 feet into the parking area behind center field.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston, while conceding the fans will have to get by on a slimmer home run ration, doesn't expect the new stadium will produce a hundred 2-1 games this year.

"There'll be some runs scored here," Alston said. "The hits will drop in between the outfielders and we'll see a lot more triples than we did at the Coliseum."

Must Have Been 3rd Thief In Amateur Play

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Now playing at Lima's Encore Theater is an amateur drama group production called "Between Two Thieves."

Members of the cast told police Tuesday there must have been a third thief.

During Saturday night's performance, they reported, someone stole their drama flag, the traditional black masks of comedy and tragedy on a yellow field. It's valued at $29.

This marks the 12th season for Jack Riley as West Point's hockey coach.

Firm's Head Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Clinton R. Robinson, 59, president of the Carborundum Co., which operates 58 plants and distributing facilities in 16 countries, died Tuesday. Robinson, who suffered from a heart condition, became president of the company in 1952 after retiring from the Army as a major general after 24 years of service. He was born in Danville, Ohio.

Presbytery Accepts College Student At Chester Session

A Wheeling college student was taken under the care of the Wheeling Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry when the Presbytery met Monday at the First Church in Chester.

C. C. Phipps of Warwood, moderator, conducted the formal ceremony in which Robert Gracie, a junior at Davis-Elkins College, was taken under the care of the Presbytery.

Gracie, who expects to enter Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in the fall of 1963, was presented to the 55 elders and ministers by the Rev. Thomas Paton, assistant minister of the Vance Memorial church in Wheeling, which the ministerial candidate attends.

The Rev. G. Ousley Browne, pastor of the Cove church in Weirton and chairman of the Presbytery's committee on Christian education, also spoke in behalf of Gracie, a former member of the Weirton church.

A report was given by the Rev. John Strock, field representative of the Synod of West Virginia. Routine business also was transacted.

The Presbytery, whose membership includes 29 churches from Chester to New Martinsville, will hold its next meeting during the Synod sessions June 11 at Davis-Elkins College in Elkins.

Frank Richmond and Edward Wine, elders, conducted the devotions with Mrs. Richmond as organist. Dinner was served by the Women's Association of the host church.

PTA Group Told To Develop Community Sense In Child

How Americans should aim to develop a sixth sense of "community" in their children was discussed by Dr. Richard K. Kerckhoff, leader of the community dynamics program of the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Detroit, for the meeting of the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Monday night at Westgate School. About 150 attended.

He told the audience "we should not rear our children isolated from their fellowman and insensitive to the ills of the world." Due to the rapid changes and dramatic development of world situations, he said "we must keep aware of conditions that will affect the neighborhood."

Speaking of urban development, Dr. Kerckhoff said all suburbs are not pleasant and the people are confronted with many problems. When children are deprived of contact with all kinds of races, other unpleasant factors result. The school problems of the city are not solved in the suburbs, he said.

Relating to the explosive situations in the cities, he commented on the unemployment situation of the young people after graduation, enlargement of necessary traffic plans, new leaders and political adaptability and the changes in tax basis causing cities to suffer blight. Another problem of the city is the lack of balance due to the increase in non-white population.

The family pattern is always changing, Dr. Kerckhoff said, and "families are incubators of sentimentality and beliefs, thus producing either bigotry or healthy relationships." He closed with the statement that "the world is already a neighborhood now it needs to be a brotherhood."

He was introduced by Mrs. Paul Davis, president, who thanked Mrs. Sdiney C. Porter Jr., program chairman, and Mrs. Dale Franklin, publicity chairman.

The Westgate orchestra, under the direction of Peter D'Argenzio presented a half - hour program. Next meeting is May 14.

PTA Group Told To Develop Community Sense In Child

How Americans should aim to develop a sixth sense of "community" in their children was discussed by Dr. Richard K. Kerckhoff, leader of the community dynamics program of the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Detroit, for the meeting of the City Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Monday night at Westgate School. About 150 attended.

He told the audience "we should not rear our children isolated from their fellowman and insensitive to the ills of the world." Due to the rapid changes and dramatic development of world situations, he said "we must keep aware of conditions that will affect the neighborhood."

Speaking of urban development, Dr. Kerckhoff said all suburbs are not pleasant and the people are confronted with many problems. When children are deprived of contact with all kinds of races, other unpleasant factors result. The school problems of the city are not solved in the suburbs, he said.

Relating to the explosive situations in the cities, he commented on the unemployment situation of the young people after graduation, enlargement of necessary traffic plans, new leaders and political adaptability and the changes in tax basis causing cities to suffer blight. Another problem of the city is the lack of balance due to the increase in non-white population.

The family pattern is always changing, Dr. Kerckhoff said, and "families are incubators of sentimentality and beliefs, thus producing either bigotry or healthy relationships." He closed with the statement that "the world is already a neighborhood now it needs to be a brotherhood."

He was introduced by Mrs. Paul Davis, president, who thanked Mrs. Sdiney C. Porter Jr., program chairman, and Mrs. Dale Franklin, publicity chairman.

The Westgate orchestra, under the direction of Peter D'Argenzio presented a half - hour program. Next meeting is May 14.

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

Perry Mason, Si! Perry Como, Go Home!

ROME — Americans will have to face up to another hard truth about the world they live in —not all of our TV stars are hits in other countries.

Hal Humphrey

In recent seasons, for example, Lucille Ball, Perry Como and Dinah Shore all have laid king - size pizzas on Italian TV.

"Our people heard the big laughter in those 'I Love Lucy' shows, but they couldn't understand why anyone was laughing," says Marco Marini, director of the international relations department for RAI-Radiotelevision Italiana.

WITH LUCY, it was a case of the Italians' failing to dig a zingy dame married to a zingier band leader. As Marini analyzes it, "The Italians simply couldn't believe such people existed."

Maybe something was lost in the translation to Italian dialogue, because Italians have a keen sense of humor. As for Dinah Shore and Perry Como, there was nothing personal about Italy's indifference to our song stars. Variety shows and musicals have been overdone here. The viewer is tired.

"Perry Mason" and "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" are the current American hits on Italy's government-owned TV system. Those and "20th Century" are, in fact, the only American shows seen here now, except for occasional showings of special documentaries and ABC's old "Silents, Please" series.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Maurixio Pardi, who also is in RAI's international department, choosing programs for all of Italy's 15 million viewers requires delicate diplomacy.

"In the south of Italy, the culture and morals are almost Spanish and just the opposite from the north of Italy. Actually, we need two program schedules — one for the south and one for the north," he says.

RAI and its directors receive almost the same kind of lambasting from the press as our networks frequently get from our press.

Programs, however, are criticized not only for mediocrity, but for political leanings. The rightist press claims Italy's TV is pro-Communist, and the leftist press screams just as loudly that TV is under the influence of the church.

-:-

"THE CHURCH does express an opinion but does not interfere directly," says Dr. Pardi. "It watches such things as the high-water mark on the women."

(A little extra translation was needed here for me to find that Signore Pardi was referring to plunging necklines.)

So far, I've found Italian TV much livelier and technically better than the French TV I watched. The Italian drama productions were more lavish and expertly directed.

Commercials are accepted but run off in 5- and 10-minute clusters, two or three times during the evening. A minute of that commercial time costs advertisers about $3,500 and is much less painful to viewers than our system of interrupting the program.

AS WITH THE FRENCH, beautiful women are plentiful on Italian TV — announcing programs and narrating. It's a marvelous idea, and I hate to think of going back to American TV and facing up to Jack Lescoulie, Hugh Downs, Bob Warren and George Fenneman. Phooey!

Another fascinating part of Italian TV is "Intervallo," which simply means "interval." Italians see no reason to stretch a program which may run short or chop off one which is running long.

Hence, while waiting for the next program, or filling in an interval after a show that has run over, the viewer is treated to "Intervallo." It may be a scene of a beautiful waterfall (cascade) of a fellow fishing in a pond.

One "Intervallo" the other night was a series of still photos of fine works of art. Each of these "Intervallos" has a soothing musical background to go with it.

GOVERNMENT - OWNED TV has its disadvantages, but to sweeten these, I must say it has thought of some marvelous subliminal and brainwashing techniques.

Madison Avenue could learn a thing or two over here about putting the viewers of TV in a receptive frame of mind.

Medal With His Name Presented MacArthur

NEW YORK (AP)— General of the Army Douglas MacArthur was honored Tuesday as the first recipient of a medal bearing his name and profile.

It was awarded to MacArthur for his "achievements as a citizen, statesman and soldier" by the New York Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The medal will be presented each year to a resident of this area "who has contributed to the progress of the community in a non-military field of endeavor, such as business, science or the arts."

Pilots Due Transfer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Col. Andrew C. Lacy, commander of the 162nd Tactical Fighter Squadron, based at Springfield Municipal Airport, has announced transfer of about 160 pilots and aircraft maintenace personnel to Gulfport, Miss. The transfer will take place early next week. All nonoperating functions will remain in Springfield.

Steel Output Seen Falling

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel output will fall 6 to 10 per cent a month through June, the Iron Age forecast today.

The metalworking weekly said the downward steps would bring the nation's production to under 70 per cent of capacity before oversized inventories by steel users are cut down to size.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported Monday that production dropped 2.3 per cent to 2,361,000 ingot tons in the week ended April 7, the first full week to feel the impact of the industry - wide wage contract settlement.

Before steel peace was thus assured, automakers and other big consumers of steel were stockpiling as a hedge against a summertime strike. Mill inventories also were heavier-than-usual.

The Iron Age figured accumulations of steel would amount to 17 million tons by the end of April, a 75-day supply.

Back Pains And Artificial Teeth Are In Medical News

By The Associated Press

Back pains and a way to help artificial teeth work better are medical topics this week:

Curing That Aching Back

Psychoanalysts, like many other people, do most of their work sitting down.

They don't use many muscles, and a high percentage of them are afflicted with backaches. The reason is mainly too little physical exercise, say Dr. Hans Kraus and Sonya Weber of New York City.

They prescribed muscular fitness tests, and then exercises, for 26 psychoanalysts complaining of low back pain and pain in the upper back, neck, shoulders and legs. After continued regular exercises, eight were free of pain and the rest had definite relief. All improved considerably in muscle strength and flexibility, Dr. Kraus reports.

Now there's a way to help artificial teeth "grow" so they will meet properly with teeth in the opposing upper or lower jaw.

Natural teeth are continuously erupting, and this allows them to keep meeting despite normal wearing down, explains Dr. Bernard Jankelson of Seattle. When people get false teeth, the original fit may be good, but the wearing process eventually allows a denture to become loose.

In a new technique, porcelain teeth are used in the upper denture, and acrylic or plastic ones in the lower. If wearing occurs so the dentures loosen, a plastic coating can be added to the tops of the lower teeth to bring them into close contact with the uppers again.

Charges Withdrawn Against Drug Chain

CLEVELAND (AP) — Criminal charges against Revco Discount Drugstores have been withdrawn because the chain has abandoned its cut-rate prices on cigarettes, John T. Patton, assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, says.

He said Stanley Bowers, state tax commissioner, would drop proceedings to revoke the drug firm's cigarette license. Still pending is a civil suit in Common Pleas Court in which the drug chain seeks to prove the state's cigarette price-fixing law unconstitutional.

UAW Told To Halt Bargaining Vote Bid

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has been instructed to withdraw its request for a bargaining rights election among 6,000 employes of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge, Inc. because the union lacks the required 30 per cent membership among Thompson employes.

A National Labor Relations Board spokesman said Tuesday if the union refused, the petition would be dismissed.

30 Plead Innocent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thirty men pleaded innocent in Federal Court Tuesday to charges listed in a sweeping FBI indictment alleging fraud on home improvement loans in Central Ohio.

Animals raised apart from their own kind sometimes do not know what species they belong to. In a Vienna zoo, an orphaned white peacock was kept in a house with giant tortoises. For the rest of its life, the bird remained unresponsive to the charms of the peahens and saw only in the huge reptiles the object of its fancy.

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

Perry Mason, Si! Perry Como, Go Home!

ROME — Americans will have to face up to another hard truth about the world they live in —not all of our TV stars are hits in other countries.

Hal Humphrey

In recent seasons, for example, Lucille Ball, Perry Como and Dinah Shore all have laid king - size pizzas on Italian TV.

"Our people heard the big laughter in those 'I Love Lucy' shows, but they couldn't understand why anyone was laughing," says Marco Marini, director of the international relations department for RAI-Radiotelevision Italiana.

WITH LUCY, it was a case of the Italians' failing to dig a zingy dame married to a zingier band leader. As Marini analyzes it, "The Italians simply couldn't believe such people existed."

Maybe something was lost in the translation to Italian dialogue, because Italians have a keen sense of humor. As for Dinah Shore and Perry Como, there was nothing personal about Italy's indifference to our song stars. Variety shows and musicals have been overdone here. The viewer is tired.

"Perry Mason" and "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" are the current American hits on Italy's government-owned TV system. Those and "20th Century" are, in fact, the only American shows seen here now, except for occasional showings of special documentaries and ABC's old "Silents, Please" series.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Maurixio Pardi, who also is in RAI's international department, choosing programs for all of Italy's 15 million viewers requires delicate diplomacy.

"In the south of Italy, the culture and morals are almost Spanish and just the opposite from the north of Italy. Actually, we need two program schedules — one for the south and one for the north," he says.

RAI and its directors receive almost the same kind of lambasting from the press as our networks frequently get from our press.

Programs, however, are criticized not only for mediocrity, but for political leanings. The rightist press claims Italy's TV is pro-Communist, and the leftist press screams just as loudly that TV is under the influence of the church.

-:-

"THE CHURCH does express an opinion but does not interfere directly," says Dr. Pardi. "It watches such things as the high-water mark on the women."

(A little extra translation was needed here for me to find that Signore Pardi was referring to plunging necklines.)

So far, I've found Italian TV much livelier and technically better than the French TV I watched. The Italian drama productions were more lavish and expertly directed.

Commercials are accepted but run off in 5- and 10-minute clusters, two or three times during the evening. A minute of that commercial time costs advertisers about $3,500 and is much less painful to viewers than our system of interrupting the program.

-:-

AS WITH THE FRENCH, beautiful women are plentiful on Italian TV — announcing programs and narrating. It's a marvelous idea, and I hate to think of going back to American TV and facing up to Jack Lescoulie, Hugh Downs, Bob Warren and George Fenneman. Phooey!

Another fascinating part of Italian TV is "Intervallo," which simply means "interval." Italians see no reason to stretch a program which may run short or chop off one which is running long.

Hence, while waiting for the next program, or filling in an interval after a show that has run over, the viewer is treated to "Intervallo." It may be a scene of a beautiful waterfall (cascade) of a fellow fishing in a pond.

One "Intervallo" the other night was a series of still photos of fine works of art. Each of these "Intervallos" has a soothing musical background to go with it.

GOVERNMENT - OWNED TV has its disadvantages, but to sweeten these, I must say it has thought of some marvelous subliminal and brainwashing techniques.

Madison Avenue could learn a thing or two over here about putting the viewers of TV in a receptive frame of mind.

Medal With His Name Presented MacArthur

NEW YORK (AP)— General of the Army Douglas MacArthur was honored Tuesday as the first recipient of a medal bearing his name and profile.

It was awarded to MacArthur for his "achievements as a citizen, statesman and soldier" by the New York Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The medal will be presented each year to a resident of this area "who has contributed to the progress of the community in a non-military field of endeavor, such as business, science or the arts."

Pilots Due Transfer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Col. Andrew C. Lacy, commander of the 162nd Tactical Fighter Squadron, based at Springfield Municipal Airport, has announced transfer of about 160 pilots and aircraft maintenace personnel to Gulfport, Miss. The transfer will take place early next week. All nonoperating functions will remain in Springfield.

Steel Output Seen Falling

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel output will fall 6 to 10 per cent a month through June, the Iron Age forecast today.

The metalworking weekly said the downward steps would bring the nation's production to under 70 per cent of capacity before oversized inventories by steel users are cut down to size.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported Monday that production dropped 2.3 per cent to 2,361,000 ingot tons in the week ended April 7, the first full week to feel the impact of the industry - wide wage contract settlement.

Before steel peace was thus assured, automakers and other big consumers of steel were stockpiling as a hedge against a summertime strike. Mill inventories also were heavier-than-usual.

The Iron Age figured accumulations of steel would amount to 17 million tons by the end of April, a 75-day supply.

The county had 1,566 traffic mishaps in 1961 compared to 1,741 in 1960, according to the department's statistical division.

Jefferson County's record, with 1960 figures in parenthesis, showed 12 killed (11); 709 injured (699); 1,240 accidents (1,389), and $559,220 in property damage ($625,750).

License Canceled

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — A dance at a roller skating rink was called off Tuesday night after Mayor Bates Harcum canceled the license, saying organizers planned an attempted demonstration. The mayor said the chief backer, a Wilmington College student, had called newsmen and radio stations saying an integration demonstration was planned.

Back Pains And Artificial Teeth Are In Medical News

By The Associated Press

Back pains and a way to help artificial teeth work better are medical topics this week:

Curing That Aching Back

Psychoanalysts, like many other people, do most of their work sitting down.

They don't use many muscles, and a high percentage of them are afflicted with backaches. The reason is mainly too little physical exercise, say Dr. Hans Kraus and Sonya Weber of New York City.

They prescribed muscular fitness tests, and then exercises, for 26 psychoanalysts complaining of low back pain and pain in the upper back, neck, shoulders and legs. After continued regular exercises, eight were free of pain and the rest had definite relief. All improved considerably in muscle strength and flexibility, Dr. Kraus reports.

Now there's a way to help artificial teeth "grow" so they will meet properly with teeth in the opposing upper or lower jaw.

Natural teeth are continuously erupting, and this allows them to keep meeting despite normal wearing down, explains Dr. Bernard Jankelson of Seattle. When people get false teeth, the original fit may be good, but the wearing process eventually allows a denture to become loose.

In a new technique, porcelain teeth are used in the upper denture, and acrylic or plastic ones in the lower. If wearing occurs so the dentures loosen, a plastic coating can be added to the tops of the lower teeth to bring them into close contact with the uppers again.

Animals raised apart from their own kind sometimes do not know what species they belong to. In a Vienna zoo, an orphaned white peacock was kept in a house with giant tortoises. For the rest of its life, the bird remained unresponsive to the charms of the peahens and saw only in the huge reptiles the object of its fancy.

Charges Withdrawn Against Drug Chain

CLEVELAND (AP) — Criminal charges against Revco Discount Drugstores have been withdrawn because the chain has abandoned its cut-rate prices on cigarettes, John T. Patton, assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor, says.

He said Stanley Bowers, state tax commissioner, would drop proceedings to revoke the drug firm's cigarette license. Still pending is a civil suit in Common Pleas Court in which the drug chain seeks to prove the state's cigarette price-fixing law unconstitutional.

UAW Told To Halt Bargaining Vote Bid

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has been instructed to withdraw its request for a bargaining rights election among 6,000 employes of Thompson Ramo Wooldridge, Inc. because the union lacks the required 30 per cent membership among Thompson employes.

A National Labor Relations Board spokesman said Tuesday if the union refused, the petition would be dismissed.

30 Plead Innocent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thirty men pleaded innocent in Federal Court Tuesday to charges listed in a sweeping FBI indictment alleging fraud on home improvement loans in Central Ohio.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

School Morning Illness Discussed

Over the years I've been receiving letters about the child who gets sick on a school morning, and only on school mornings. He may have all the symptoms of physical illness. A Michigan mother writes: "My child is seven years old, in the second grade in school, an honor student and one of the top ten in her class. Yet as soon as she gets up in the morning — mind you, only during school days — she starts crying, says she has a stomach ache and manages to throw up before she leaves for school. "She refuses to eat anything for breakfast and leaves without a thing to eat or drink. Once she is outside and in school, she is OK; also by the time she comes home she is all right till the next morning.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"I BELIEVE SHE is afraid that she will not know her lesson to the T and might have to stay during her lunch period.

"But the problem is, how do I stop her from crying and throwing up in the morning?

"I have even gone to my doctor with her to have her stomach checked, but it seems that everything is all right. Also, he gave me something to quiet her stomach or nerves in the morning, but that didn't do any good, either."

My reply:

On a school morning, try to be very calm; say nothing about school, just expect that child to go.

If she throws up or cries, keep no account of it. An easier way might be not to let her have any breakfast but give her a sandwich to take along to school, to eat when she feels like it.

—:—

ON ANY MORNING you think she is really sick, put her to bed and give her a very light diet, no amusement at all and don't stay with her to entertain her. Make her stay in bed until the next morning. Then she might decide to go regularly.

If she has a temperature, call the doctor.

In the meanwhile, it might be a good thing to find out from the school if there is some reason she dreads going.

It might be possible that you have made such ado over her high grades that she is always scared that she won't keep this high place.

Do read to her a great deal and encourage her to read what she can herself.

The whole family should get up a little earlier in the morning so nobody has to hurry. Try then to make it a cheerful time.

Encourage her to have fun with other children. It would be fine if some of them would stop in and go with her to school.

My bulletins, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" and "Nervous Child," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Nature Invented Stretching Exercises

Today's easy tone-ups are for softies past 40. Stretching gives the most exercise for the least effort. The muscles acting against each other, as they do in stretching, fairly pull out the bulges.

Ida Jean Kain

And everybody has room for stretching exercises, regardless of how cramped the quarters. They may be taken standing up, reaching for the ceiling; stretching against a wall, or lying flat on your back.

The lying - down position is easiest and eliminates any possibility of strain, so if space permits, take the exercises on a mat on the floor from the position of flat on the back.

Position: Lying on back on floor, left knee bent, sole of foot flat on floor, right leg straight down. Left arm should be down at side, right arm stretched back on floor overhead.

Keep small of back against floor. Stretch 3 times, smoothly, releasing gently. Reverse position of legs and stretch along the left side 3 times...later increase the count. Now try a diagonal stretch.

Stretch up with the right arm and down with the left leg, keep right knee bent. Reverse position and stretch in opposite diagonal. Stretching feels wonderfully good!

Position: Lying on back on floor, legs straight down, arms up on floor beyond head.

Movement: Stretch up with arms and push down with legs—pulling both ends against the middle. Stretch, yawn and relax—and stretch again. On the next stretch, twist, turn and pull until you feel the stretch impulse clear to your toes and fingertips.

Finish with a bias stretch.

IT'S SURPRISING how well the muscles can be kept in tone with a few simple stretches, taken daily.

And stretching, for all its gentleness, is a powerful circulation stimulator. There is no age limit on this kind of exercise, for after all, nature invented stretching... And walking!

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Wake Up And Stretch." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Mrs. Eaton To Join Vigil At White House

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Cyrus Eaton, wife of the Cleveland industrialist, was to join a group of women starting a marathon vigil in front of the White House today.

The group, known as Women Strike for Peace, decided on a demonstration after learning President Kennedy was unable to see the women. They are opposed to the United States' planned renewal of atmospheric nuclear testing.

The first reference in the Bible to man praying to God is in Genesis 4:26 — after the birth of Enos. ". . .then began men to call upon the name of the Lord."

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

School Morning Illness Discussed

Over the years I've been receiving letters about the child who gets sick on a school morning, and only on school mornings. He may have all the symptoms of physical illness. A Michigan mother writes: "My child is seven years old, in the second grade in school, an honor student and one of the top ten in her class. Yet as soon as she gets up in the morning — mind you, only during school days — she starts crying, says she has a stomach ache and manages to throw up before she leaves for school. "She refuses to eat anything for breakfast and leaves without a thing to eat or drink. Once she is outside and in school, she is OK; also by the time she comes home she is all right till the next morning.

"I BELIEVE SHE is afraid that she will not know her lesson to the T and might have to stay during her lunch period.

"But the problem is, how do I stop her from crying and throwing up in the morning?

"I have even gone to my doctor with her to have her stomach checked, but it seems that everything is all right. Also, he gave me something to quiet her stomach or nerves in the morning, but that didn't do any good, either."

My reply:

On a school morning, try to be very calm; say nothing about school, just expect that child to go.

If she throws up or cries, keep no account of it. An easier way might be not to let her have any breakfast but give her a sandwich to take along to school, to eat when she feels like it.

—:—

ON ANY MORNING you think she is really sick, put her to bed and give her a very light diet, no amusement at all and don't stay with her to entertain her. Make her stay in bed until the next morning. Then she might decide to go regularly.

If she has a temperature, call the doctor.

In the meanwhile, it might be a good thing to find out from the school if there is some reason she dreads going.

It might be possible that you have made such ado over her high grades that she is always scared that she won't keep this high place.

Do read to her a great deal and encourage her to read what she can herself.

The whole family should get up a little earlier in the morning so nobody has to hurry. Try then to make it a cheerful time.

Encourage her to have fun with other children. It would be fine if some of them would stop in and go with her to school.

My bulletins, "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School" and "Nervous Child," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

Nature Invented Stretching Exercises

Today's easy tone-ups are for softies past 40. Stretching gives the most exercise for the least effort. The muscles acting against each other, as they do in stretching, fairly pull out the bulges.

Ida Jean Kain

And everybody has room for stretching exercises, regardless of how cramped the quarters. They may be taken standing up, reaching for the ceiling; stretching against a wall, or lying flat on your back.

The lying - down position is easiest and eliminates any possibility of strain, so if space permits, take the exercises on a mat on the floor from the position of flat on the back.

Position: Lying on back on floor, left knee bent, sole of foot flat on floor, right leg straight down. Left arm should be down at side, right arm stretched back on floor overhead.

MOVEMENT: Contract strongly with the abdominal muscles and get the small of the back as flat against the floor as possible. Now s-t-r-e-t-c-h all along the right side, pushing down with the right foot and up with the right fingers.

Keep small of back against floor. Stretch 3 times, smoothly, releasing gently. Reverse position of legs and stretch along the left side 3 times...later increase the count. Now try a diagonal stretch.

Stretch up with the right arm and down with the left leg, keep right knee bent. Reverse position and stretch in opposite diagonal. Stretching feels wonderfully good!

Position: Lying on back on floor, legs straight down, arms up on floor beyond head.

Movement: Stretch up with arms and push down with legs—pulling both ends against the middle. Stretch, yawn and relax—and stretch again. On the next stretch, twist, turn and pull until you feel the stretch impulse clear to your toes and fingertips.

Finish with a bias stretch.

Position: Lying on back, arms down at sides, legs down.

IT'S SURPRISING how well the muscles can be kept in tone with a few simple stretches, taken daily.

And stretching, for all its gentleness, is a powerful circulation stimulator. There is no age limit on this kind of exercise, for after all, nature invented stretching... And walking!

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Wake Up And Stretch." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Mrs. Eaton To Join Vigil At White House

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Cyrus Eaton, wife of the Cleveland industrialist, was to join a group of women starting a marathon vigil in front of the White House today.

The group, known as Women Strike for Peace, decided on a demonstration after learning President Kennedy was unable to see the women. They are opposed to the United States' planned renewal of atmospheric nuclear testing.

The first reference in the Bible to man praying to God is in Genesis 4:26 — after the birth of Enos. ". . .then began men to call upon the name of the Lord."

Junior Editors Quiz on UNICORNS

QUESTION: Are unicorns still in existence (or were they ever)?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: It is possible that this animal once roamed India. We can be fairly sure, however, that it does not exist anymore. The Greek philosopher Aristotle mentions the animal, as does the Roman historian Pliny. The unicorn was a strange animal. He had the head and body of a horse, the hind legs of an antelope, the tail of a lion and the beard of a goat. He had one beautiful horn in the middle of his forehead. It was long and sharp and spiraled, and it was red, white and black. The unicorn, it was believed, had great strength and fierceness. Legends grew up about the animal. Scholars and adventurers in the ancient world claimed to have seen him. Men went on long journeys in search of the unicorn. The hunter was disguised as a young girl, drenched with perfume. It was said that the unicorn would come out of his lair and put his head on the hunter's knee. The hunter then had to seize the horn and wrest it from the head of the unicorn. Unicorn horns were valuable. People believed that the horn could guard against poison, and as late as the 18th century, the king's food was tested for poison in cups which people believed were made from unicorn horns.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Even if the unicorn never existed, there are a number of animals which look like him. The cape oryx, which is a type of antelope, resembles this animal, except that it has two horns instead of one and the horns are pointed in the opposite direction from the unicorn's horn. See how many animals you can find that look slightly like the legendary unicorn.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You are supposed to be a big problem solver. I am 11 years old and I have a big problem for you to solve. I am too kind-hearted.

If the kid next to me wants to borrow an eraser I say yes. If the girl across frome me wants to borrow some notebook paper I say yes.

These people know good and well that they need certain supplies to do their school work. Yet they are always running out of stuff and borrowing from me. I guess you might say my problem is I can't say no. Please help me. —JOHN.

Dear John: No is a perfectly respectable word — and you should learn, right now, how to use it.

Everybody runs out of something at one time or another. It is always nice to help a friend who is in a spot. There is such a thing as being a shnook, however. If the same person tries to borrow from you three days in a row I think you should tell him, "I have to buy my supplies and it's time you bought yours."

Busy Housewife

Dear Ann: My problem isn't original. There must be thousands of others in the same boat. What's the solution?

I arise at 5 a.m., fix lunches and breakfast for my husband and myself. He gets up at 5:45. At 7 a.m. I wake the two children, dress them, feed them and take them upstairs to the babysitter. I then dash to get the 7:50 bus. (My husband rides with a friend.)

After work I rush home, pick up the children and start supper. My husband gets home an hour before I do but he has to bathe, shave and read the evening news. After dinner and dishes I do some cleaning, washing and ironing.

My husband meanwhile is in his favorite chair watching TV and drinking beer. At 8 I stop whatever I'm doing and get the children bathed and ready for bed.

I then return to my cleaning and ironing. By this time my husband has had several catnaps. By 11:30 I'm ready to collapse, so I bathe and prepare for the next day. At midnight when I finally fall into bed, my husband gets romantic.

I can't afford to quit my job. What do you suggest? — TIRED.

Dear Tired: I'm surprised you aren't dead. How long do you think you can keep on with a 19-hour day?

Your husband should help you with the dinner dishes and the cleaning. He also can give you a hand by bathing the children and putting them into bed. From your description it sounds as if he doesn't touch the kids with a stick.

With his help you should be in bed by 10. And since he will have been pitching in, too, he won't be quite so zippy every night.

Sponge And Sponger

Dear Ann: I'm 20 years old and I work as a punch-press operator. I make very good money for a girl my age.

This fellow I've been going with since September is the best-looking guy who ever hit town. He's built like Rock Hudson and has a voice like Rock, too. Unfortunately, he has had some trouble hanging on to a job. I've kept up the payments on his car and gave him money for room rent a few times. He is very appreciative.

Please don't get the idea that he's a sponger because he isn't. He's just had some lousy breaks.

When he's loaded he talks about marriage but when he's sober he avoids the subject. I'd give my eye teeth to marry this guy. How can I do it? — SOFTHEARTED.

Dear Soft Hearted: He doesn't want your eye teeth, honey, he only wants your financial help and the pleasure of your company.

My advice is to drop him, unless you want to continue to pour your hard-earned dough down a bottomless well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Deadline's April 30 In Beaver Wool Plan

April 30 is the last day for filing applications for payments for the 1961 marketing year under the wool program, growers were reminded today by Mark Hilliker, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The payments for the 1961 marketing year cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed not later than March 31 of this year. Later marketings will be eligible for payments for the 1962 marketing year.

Wool program applications should be filed at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office at the second floor of the Federal Building as soon as possible, Hilliker said.

Manslaughter Bonds Posted

LISBON — Bonds of $1,000 each were set Monday in Common Pleas Court for three defendants indicted secretly by the April Grand Jury on charges of second degree manslaughter.

Freed on bonds were Allen Rice, 18, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Wayne Hillyer, 35, of Hanoverton, while John J. Diamond, 53, of Lisbon R. D. 4 could not make bond and was taken to the County Jail. Arraignments will be held April 18.

Prom Committee Employs Combo

The Midland Post-Prom Committee met Monday evening and chose the Nicholas Theatrical Enterprises to furnish entertainment, including a combo, for the post-prom party May 18 for Lincoln High school juniors and seniors.

Raymond Stowitzky, entertainment chairman, reported. Mrs. Grover Epley, food chairman, was asked to select a suitable menu.

The committee passed a motion that any combo hired must belong to a union and be represented by an agency.

Mrs. Epley, who was in charge of a Tag Day held March 20, reported that $167.60 was realized. The money will be used for the post-prom party which is to be held at the Steelworkers Hall.

Mrs. Edward Cronin presided in the absence of Joseph D'Alesio, president. Next meeting is May 7 at the Steelworkers Hall.

60 Attend Meeting Of City Shrine Club

Sixty attended a meeting of the East Liverpool Shrine Club Monday night at the Casting Club. "Ladies Night" was observed and lunch was served.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You are supposed to be a big problem solver. I am 11 years old and I have a big problem for you to solve. I am too kind-hearted.

If the kid next to me wants to borrow an eraser I say yes. If the girl across frome me wants to borrow some notebook paper I say yes.

These people know good and well that they need certain supplies to do their school work. Yet they are always running out of stuff and borrowing from me. I guess you might say my problem is I can't say no. Please help me. —JOHN.

Dear John: No is a perfectly respectable word — and you should learn, right now, how to use it.

Everybody runs out of something at one time or another. It is always nice to help a friend who is in a spot. There is such a thing as being a shnook, however. If the same person tries to borrow from you three days in a row I think you should tell him, "I have to buy my supplies and it's time you bought yours."

Busy Housewife

Dear Ann: My problem isn't original. There must be thousands of others in the same boat. What's the solution?

I arise at 5 a.m., fix lunches and breakfast for my husband and myself. He gets up at 5:45. At 7 a.m. I wake the two children, dress them, feed them and take them upstairs to the babysitter. I then dash to get the 7:50 bus. (My husband rides with a friend.)

After work I rush home, pick up the children and start supper. My husband gets home an hour before I do but he has to bathe, shave and read the evening news. After dinner and dishes I do some cleaning, washing and ironing.

My husband meanwhile is in his favorite chair watching TV and drinking beer. At 8 I stop whatever I'm doing and get the children bathed and ready for bed.

I then return to my cleaning and ironing. By this time my husband has had several catnaps. By 11:30 I'm ready to collapse, so I bathe and prepare for the next day. At midnight when I finally fall into bed, my husband gets romantic.

I can't afford to quit my job. What do you suggest? — TIRED.

Dear Tired: I'm surprised you aren't dead. How long do you think you can keep on with a 19-hour day?

Your husband should help you with the dinner dishes and the cleaning. He also can give you a hand by bathing the children and putting them into bed. From your description it sounds as if he doesn't touch the kids with a stick.

With his help you should be in bed by 10. And since he will have been pitching in, too, he won't be quite so zippy every night.

Sponge And Sponger

Dear Ann: I'm 20 years old and I work as a punch-press operator. I make very good money for a girl my age.

This fellow I've been going with since September is the best-looking guy who ever hit town. He's built like Rock Hudson and has a voice like Rock, too. Unfortunately, he has had some trouble hanging on to a job. I've kept up the payments on his car and gave him money for room rent a few times. He is very appreciative.

Please don't get the idea that he's a sponger because he isn't. He's just had some lousy breaks.

When he's loaded he talks about marriage but when he's sober he avoids the subject. I'd give my eye teeth to marry this guy. How can I do it? — SOFTHEARTED.

Dear Soft Hearted: He doesn't want your eye teeth, honey, he only wants your financial help and the pleasure of your company.

My advice is to drop him, unless you want to continue to pour your hard-earned dough down a bottomless well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
